FORM 8-K

Item 5.02. Departure of Directors or Principal Officer; Election of Directors; Appointment of Principal Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On October 8, 2006, Ricardo A. Salas, the President and Chief Executive Officer of Liquidmetal Technologies, Inc. (the Company), resigned as an officer and director of the Company. Also on October 8, 2006, the Board of Directors of the Company elected Larry E. Buffington to serve as the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company.

Mr. Buffington, who is 59 years of age, has been serving as a full-time consultant to the Company since July 2006. Buffington is the President of Buffington Consulting, a consulting firm that Mr. Buffington started in 1997 focusing on the assessment and turnaround of manufacturing operations. Prior to starting Buffington Consulting, Mr. Buffington was the General Manager of the Communications Products Business Unit of Augat, Inc., a public company with worldwide manufacturing operations in communication, automotive and electronic products. Mr. Buffington served in this capacity from 1991 through 1997, during which time the Communications Products Business Unit was sold by Augat, Inc. to Thomas & Betts Corporation in 1996, after which Mr. Buffington managed the integration of the two operations. Prior to joining Augat, Mr. Buffington worked in various operational management positions, including serving as General Manager of the Communications Products Division of AMP, Inc., a manufacturer of electrical and electronic connector devices, and as Vice President and General manager of the Cook division of Northern Telecom. Mr. Buffington received a B.S. from Pennsylvania State University in 1969.

Mr. Buffington will receive an initial base salary of $200,000 for serving as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company. The Company and Mr. Buffington have not entered into an employment agreement relating to Mr. Buffington's employment with the Company, but the Company anticipates that an employment agreement will be negotiated and entered into with Mr. Buffington during the next 60 days.

Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

See press release, dated October 10, 2006, attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 relating to conference call to be held on October 11, 2006 regarding new President and Chief Executive Officer.

Item 8.01. Other Events.

The Company previously announced on August 16, 2006 that it had received a federal grand jury subpoena for the production of certain documents relating to the Company's relationship with Growell Metal of South Korea, as well as certain documents relating to transactions in Liquidmetal's stock by officers and directors. As previously announced, the subpoena was issued in connection with a grand jury investigation being conducted by the U.S. Department of Justice, Criminal Division, in the Middle District of Florida concerning alleged accounting improprieties by the Company, among other things.

Based on discussions between the Company's counsel and the Department of Justice, the Company believes that the subject matter of the investigation relates principally to the accounting treatment of certain equipment sales between the Company and Growell Metal during 2002 and certain stock transfers between John Kang, the Company's Chairman and former CEO, and Growell in 2002. In connection with this investigation, the Company has been informed by the Department of Justice that John Kang, James Kang (a director and founder of the Company), and Ricardo A. Salas are currently targets in the ongoing investigation. Upon notification of his being a target of investigation, Ricardo A. Salas resigned as an officer and director of the Company.

The Company's board of directors is evaluating the current situation and will take action as appropriate. The Company has been, and intends to continue to be, fully cooperative with the authorities in connection with the Department of Justice's subpoena and investigation.
