Constellation Energy Mails Definitive Proxy Statement and Schedules Special Meeting of Shareholders on Dec. 23, 2008

Shareholders to vote on $26.50 per share transaction with MidAmerican

DES MOINES, Iowa, and BALTIMORE, Nov. 25, 2008 MidAmerican Energy Holdings Company and Constellation Energy (NYSE: CEG) today announced that Constellation Energy filed its definitive proxy statement with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and commenced mailing the statement to shareholders in connection with the companies' $26.50 per share merger announced Sept. 19, 2008.

The board of directors believes the $26.50 per share offer from MidAmerican is the best alternative for shareholders, and as a result, strongly recommends that shareholders vote in favor of this transaction, said Mayo A. Shattuck III, chairman, president and chief executive officer of Constellation Energy. The continued deterioration in global credit and commodity markets leads us to conclude that combining with a well-capitalized strategic partner like MidAmerican is the best outcome for Constellation Energy and its shareholders.

The parties expect to complete the transaction in the second quarter of 2009.

The definitive agreement has been approved by both companies' boards of directors and is subject to, among other things, shareholder and customary federal and state regulatory approvals. Information about the transaction is available at www.constellationmidamerican.com.

[Email to Constellation employees from Chairman, President and CEO]

Dear Colleague,

Today we announced that we filed a definitive proxy statement with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission for our pending merger with MidAmerican Energy Holdings Company, and announced that a shareholder vote will be held on Dec. 23, 2008.

As you may know, our shareholders include hundreds of large institutions such as mutual funds and banks, as well as thousands of individual investors. This, of course, includes many current and former Constellation Energy employees, with a large concentration of BGE employees and retirees in Maryland.

It is my view, and that of our management committee and Board of Directors, that the merger with MidAmerican is in the best near- and long-term interest of Constellation Energy and our many stakeholders. I urge all of you holding shares to carefully review and consider the proxy materials that will be mailed to your homes in the days ahead. I believe that when you review the facts and weigh the pros and cons, you will agree this merger is right for our company, and I'd like to share with you some of the reasons why.

MidAmerican, a member of Warren Buffett's Berkshire Hathaway family, has repeatedly demonstrated its commitment to this partnership. It invested $1 billion in Constellation Energy in September during one of the worst liquidity crises in financial market history, and more recently entered into agreements which provide Constellation Energy with up to $350 million of additional liquidity resources. These commitments are helping us weather the unprecedented collapse of global credit markets.

Since the announcement of the merger, it has become even more apparent that MidAmerican's $26.50-per-share offer is fair, reasonable and the best alternative for shareholders, given the seismic changes in the economy and energy sector during the past several months. The decline in valuation is by no means limited to our company, as the shares of many of our merchant peers are down 60 percent to 80 percent this year. MidAmerican's offer accurately reflects the realities of today's economy and the pessimism on Wall Street.

The long-term prospects for the merger are encouraging. MidAmerican has promised that Constellation Energy and BGE will operate autonomously. The headquarters of both companies will remain in Baltimore, and local management will continue to make day-to-day decisions. MidAmerican has made a commitment in its filing with the Maryland Public Service Commission to delay and reduce proposed electric and gas distribution rate increases for BGE customers, and it has pledged that it will be a partner in developing new power generation in our home state. Finally, MidAmerican has promised that it will initiate no workforce reductions at BGE as a result of the merger through January 2012 if ever. These are exceptionally strong commitments, particularly in today's challenging economic environment.

In the weeks leading up to the Dec. 23 shareholder meeting, we will provide you with additional information about the voting process, post updates to our employee merger site on myConstellation, as well as our external merger Web site, constellationmidamerican.com, and do our best to answer your questions. We very much want you to be an ambassador for what we believe is an excellent partnership.

Regards,

Mayo

Proxy Filing Leader Talking Points

- Leaders should be prepared to educate employees about the benefits of the merger.
- Leaders should emphasize that the votes of all shareholders, including Constellation Energy and BGE employees and retirees, are important.
- Employees should be equipped to be ambassadors for the merger with family, friends and shareholders in the community.
- Employees should routinely check the employee merger site on myConstellation, as well as the external merger Web site, constellationmidamerican.com, for updates.

Shareholder vote is weeks away employee, retiree support is vital

- Constellation Energy filed its definitive proxy statement with the SEC Nov. 25, 2008.
- A special shareholder meeting has been set for Dec. 23, 2008.
- Shareholders who own Constellation Energy stock as of Nov. 14, 2008 (record date), can vote by telephone, Internet or by mail.

- Employees are urged to review the proxy materials as soon as they receive them and vote their shares promptly.
- Additional employee communications will be forthcoming and employee-shareholders should be on the lookout for the proxy statement arriving in the mail.
- There will be additional internal communications in the weeks ahead and leaders and employees will be notified with details.
- Every vote is important. A failure to vote on the transaction counts as a vote against the transaction.

Given the circumstances, $26.50 is fair, reasonable and the best alternative for shareholders

- Without an immediate cash infusion on Sept. 22, Constellation Energy faced a ratings downgrade that was likely to lead to bankruptcy.
- In management's view, the transaction price of $26.50 is likely greater than could have been expected from a bankruptcy filing.
- MidAmerican offered the only viable proposal to provide the immediate $1 billion cash infusion necessary within the required timeframe.
- This was the only offer with financing in place. This kind of funding certainty was important then; it's even more critical now.
- Constellation Energy is not alone in terms of sharply reduced share price. Many of Constellation Energy's merchant peers are down 60 percent to 80 percent for the year.
- We are rapidly transforming the company to reduce risk and appropriately size the commercial businesses.
- However, these measures alone may not be sufficient to ensure the stability of Constellation Energy. We continue to believe in the benefits of the merger with MidAmerican.

The merger is best option for our company and its stakeholders

- The merger allows BGE and Constellation Energy to continue to serve the needs of our communities.
- The companies will operate autonomously as subsidiaries of MidAmerican.
- MidAmerican is a strong company backed by parent Berkshire Hathaway.
- MidAmerican has made a commitment to the Maryland Public Service Commission, which would provide up to $70 million of benefits to BGE customers...
- MidAmerican has pledged that there will no jobs losses at BGE as a result of the merger through Jan. 2012 if ever.
- MidAmerican has committed its support for the development of new generation in Maryland.
- MidAmerican will maintain current levels of charitable support in Maryland s communities through 2013.
