In the event any Initial Shareholder ceases to own at least 25% of the issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock, but continues to own at least 5% of the issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock, then the number of directors such Initial Shareholder shall have the right to designate shall be reduced to one, and such Initial Shareholder shall cause all but one of the directors designated by it to resign. In the event any Initial Shareholder ceases to own at least 5% of the issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock, then such Initial Shareholder shall cease to have the right to designate any directors, and such Initial Shareholder shall cause all of the directors designated by it to resign.

The act of the majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present (which must include at least one of the directors designated by each Initial Shareholder) shall be the act of the board of directors, unless the special approval rights contained in the Shareholders Agreement apply. Certain fundamental actions must be approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the entire board of directors, which must include, so long as an Initial Shareholder has the right to designate a director, (a) the affirmative vote of at least one of the directors designated by each Initial Shareholder, or (b) the unanimous written consent of the entire board of directors in lieu of a meeting.
