The Zweig Total Return Fund, Inc.

Annual Report

December 31, 2012

FUND DISTRIBUTIONS AND MANAGED DISTRIBUTION PLAN

The Fund has a Managed Distribution Plan to pay 7% of the Fund's net asset value on an annualized basis. Distributions may represent earnings from net investment income, realized capital gains, or, if necessary, return of capital. The board believes that regular monthly, fixed cash payouts will enhance shareholder value and serve the long-term interests of shareholders. You should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the amount of the distributions or from the terms of the Fund's Managed Distribution Plan.

The Fund has distributed more than its income and net realized capital gains in 2012; therefore, a portion of your distributions will be a return of capital. A return of capital may occur, for example, when some or all of the money that you invested in the Fund is paid back to you. A return of capital distribution does not necessarily reflect the Fund's investment performance and should not be confused with yield or income.

The amounts and sources of distributions reported in Section 19(a) notices of the 1940 Act are only estimates and are not being provided for tax reporting purposes. The actual amounts and sources of the amounts for tax reporting purposes will depend upon the Fund's investment experience during its fiscal year and may be subject to changes based on tax regulations. The Fund will send shareholders a Form 1099-DIV for 2012 that tells you how to report distributions for federal income tax purposes.

The Board may amend, suspend or terminate the Managed Distribution Plan at any time, without prior notice to shareholders if it deems such action to be in the best interest of the Fund and its shareholders.

Information on the Zweig funds is available at www.Virtus.com. Section 19(a) notices are posted on the website at:

MARKET OUTLOOK AND OVERVIEW

U.S. stock markets ended 2012 on strong footing. The Dow Jones Industrial Average (Dow) rose 166.03 points on December 31, 2012, the largest increase on the final trading day of the year in the history of the index. The surge came on expectations that the House of Representatives would pass a Senate bill to avert the so-called fiscal cliff with its automatic widespread tax increases and spending cuts. Following House approval of the bill late on New Year's Day, the Dow soared 308.41 points on January 2, 2013, setting yet another record for its best year-opening trading day ever.

In terms of performance, U.S. equities had a lackluster fourth quarter, with declines of 1.7% for the Dow, 0.4% for the S&P 500®, and 2.7% for the NASDAQ Composite® Index. However, results for all of 2012 were much more positive: the Dow climbed 10.2%, the S&P 500 gained 16.0% and the NASDAQ Composite rose 17.5%.

Global equity markets also ended 2012 in positive territory. The Dow Jones Global ex-U.S. Index gained 13.6%⁽¹⁾. European stocks, as measured broadly by the benchmark STOXX® Europe 600, rose 14.4%⁽¹⁾, and Germany led country performance, with the DAX climbing 29.1%⁽¹⁾. In the Asia-Pacific region, India was the top performer, with the SENSEX up 25.7%⁽¹⁾. Japan's Nikkei 225 Stock Average rose 22.9%⁽¹⁾, while China was the laggard, with the Shanghai Composite Index only up 3.2%⁽¹⁾.

As 2012 neared to a close, the Federal Reserve (the Fed), a key mover of the markets, gave mixed signals about its intentions toward monetary policy. In December, the Fed announced that it would continue to hold interest rates low, as long as the unemployment rate held above 6.5%, and that it would continue its $85 billion monthly purchases of treasuries and mortgage-backed securities through 2013. However, in the wake of the Fed's December meeting, its members were about evenly divided between ending the bond-buying program by sometime around the middle of 2013 and extending it for a longer period, leaving its future plans unspecified.

In its final gross domestic product estimate for the third quarter of 2012, the U.S. Commerce Department expected the U.S. economy to grow at an annualized rate of 3.1%, an increase from its previous estimate of 2.7%. The agency attributed the rise to increased exports, higher consumer spending, and, for the first time in three years, added growth by local and state governments. Meanwhile, the United Nations Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development released its forecast in November that the U.S. economy would grow 2.0% in 2013 and 2.8% in 2014, and for Japan's GDP to expand just 0.7% in 2013 and 0.8% in 2014. The group viewed the euro region as likely remaining in recession until early 2013, leading to a 0.1% contraction in GDP for the entire year, and growth of just 1.3% in 2014.

U.S. manufacturing activity increased moderately in December, according to the Institute for Supply Management (ISM), a trade group of purchasing agents. The ISM Manufacturing Index edged up to 50.7 in December from 49.5 in November, its lowest reading since July 2009. A reading above 50 indicates expansion in the manufacturing sector, while a reading below 50 shows contraction.

In the U.S. labor market, job creation held steady in December yet remains modest overall. Employers added 155,000 new jobs, approximately equal to the average monthly growth for the last two years, according to the Labor Department. The unemployment rate held at 7.8% in December, unchanged from the upwardly revised November figure. The agency also noted slight increases in wage growth and longer working hours. Although job growth has been somewhat tepid for a typical economic recovery, it has been steady enough to produce gains in consumer-oriented stocks, which have been lifted by the prospect of increased consumer spending. This trend of continued improvement in the jobs picture should bode well for holdings in the portfolio such as Amazon.com and Ford Motor Co.

Housing, a key factor in the U.S. economy, is showing signs of significant growth, based on Commerce Department data reported for November. Home building permits issued in the month hit their highest level in nearly four-and-a-half years, rising 3.6% to a seasonally-adjusted annual rate of 899,000 units, the highest figure since July 2008. Sales of new homes also gained 4.4% in the month, to a seasonally-adjusted annual rate of 377,000, the highest level since April 2010. Home resales also surged, according to the National Association of Realtors, which reported existing homes selling at a seasonally-adjusted annual rate of 5.04 million units in November. That marks a 5.9% rise from October and a 14.5% increase from a year earlier.

The portfolio holds several stocks that stand to gain from a continued housing recovery, including homebuilder DR Horton and regional banks such as U.S. Bancorp and BB&T Corp. In addition, JPMorgan Chase has favorable exposure to both the housing market and credit cards, a business which tends to improve as home prices increase.

Consumer spending, which accounts for about 70% of the U.S. economy, increased 0.4% in November following a 0.1% dip in October, according to the Commerce Department. Incomes gained 0.6% in November, the largest increase in 11 months. Corporate spending also strengthened as durable goods orders jumped 0.7% in November, following an upwardly adjusted figure of 1.1% for October. Hurricane Sandy had a large negative effect on October spending data, so the positive November data continues to give us confidence that the economy is improving at the margin. As referenced earlier, the portfolio is positioned to benefit from a cyclical recovery through ownership of consumer-oriented stocks.

Amid the upbeat economic news was a dampening note from the Conference Board's Consumer Confidence Index, which sagged 6 percentage points in December from November, its lowest level since last April. However, we view this dip as a hiccup associated with the uncertainty over the fiscal cliff and related tax policy coming out of Washington at the time. Since clarity has been established on the tax front for 2013, consumer confidence is picking up and President Obama's approval rating has been rising, which is a good indicator of confidence from the larger population.

Meanwhile, the overall Consumer Price Index (CPI), a key metric of inflation, declined 0.3% in November on a seasonally-adjusted basis, and rose 1.8% year over year, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Excluding volatile food and energy prices, core CPI gained 0.1% in November and was up 1.9% for the 12 months. Muted inflation is generally a bullish environment for stocks and one of the main reasons the Fund's exposure to equities is higher than average.

At the same time, however, there are some cautionary signs we are watching. Reflecting slower consumer demand, U.S exports of goods and services in October showed the biggest decline in nearly four years. The Commerce Department reported a 3.6% drop in exports to $180.5 billion, the largest percentage decline since January 2009. Imports slipped 2.1% to $222.8 billion, its lowest level since April 2011. As a result, the U.S. trade deficit widened 4.9% to $42.2 billion. This could be related to Hurricane Sandy, so we will continue to closely monitor trade data.

The decline in trade volume was matched by the weakness of the U.S. dollar in 2012 against the euro and emerging market currencies. However, the dollar gained ground against the Japanese yen. Showing little change from the start of 2012, the euro finished the year at $1.3462, a rise of 1.8%. As measured against the yen, the dollar ended the year at ¥86.74, an increase of 13%. Dollar weakness tends to be a mixed bag for stocks, although is usually bullish for commodity-oriented stocks such as those within the materials and energy sectors. The Fund remains overweight in these areas, and its holdings in Chevron, Schlumberger, and Monsanto should benefit from a weaker dollar.

U.S. mergers and acquisitions (M&A) in 2012 totaled $871 billion, a decline from $908 billion in 2011, according to Dealogic. There was little change in Europe's M&A volume of $737 billion, off 1% from 2011. In the Asia-Pacific region, deal volume fell 5% to $584 billion. Global M&A deals totaled $2.6 trillion, roughly in line with 2011 activity.

The dollar volume of U.S. initial public offerings rose 15% in 2012 to $38.9 billion, topping China and Hong Kong for the first time since 2008, according to Dealogic. China raised $38.1 billion, down 59%, while Europe slumped to $13.8 billion, off 62% from 2011. Globally, 751 companies raised $113.1 billion in 2012, down 29% from the volume of $159.8 billion raised by 1,277 companies in 2011.

Appraising the market outlook at year-end 2012, Wall Street was more optimistic than Main Street investors. In its December 31 weekly poll of financial advisors, the Investors Intelligence Survey found 48.1% bullish and only 24.1% bearish. This compares with the year-end weekly sentiment survey by the American Association of Individual Investors that registered 44.4% bulls and 30.2% bears. The disparity between the two investor groups was greater a few months earlier at September 30, with advisors at 51.0% bulls and 24.9% bears, and investors split 36.1% bulls and 36.5% bears. By comparison, at the end of 2011, advisor sentiment was 50.5% bulls and 29.5% bears, with investors 40.6% bulls and 30.8% bears. Although these sentiment indicators point to a mixed outlook for stocks, longer term trends such as mutual fund flows paint a more bullish picture. Fund flow data continues to show mutual fund investors are underrepresented in stocks and favoring bonds, which are trading at very low yields.

Based on current earnings estimates, Standard & Poor's reported that its S&P 500 Index was trading at a price-to-earnings (P/E) ratio of 16.4 on December 31, 2012. This compares with 15.6 on September 30, 2012 and 14.25 on December 31, 2011. For trailing 12-month earnings, S&P reported a P/E of 16.4 (same as that for current earnings) on December 31, 2012, 16.7 on September 30, 2012, and 14.5 on December 31, 2011. Earnings estimates have been coming down somewhat, which has the potential to boost growth once earnings season arrives as muted expectations make it easier for companies to exceed earnings forecasts.

The overall picture that we see is one of an improving economy, both domestically and globally, muted inflation, and continued earnings growth. Although the consumer still faces headwinds related to debt reduction and both federal and state governments need to address budget deficits, there is marked improvement on both fronts, especially relative to expectations. The improvement in housing data is very encouraging, and while not up to the standards of many previous recoveries, the jobs numbers are getting better. Finally, ongoing support from the Fed to do whatever it deems necessary to aid the economy will continue to be supportive of higher stock prices. Due to these factors, the Fund has 65% of its assets invested in equities, which is above the historic average. As always, we remain flexible and will closely monitor conditions as to the level of investment in the portfolio and which stocks and sectors to be invested in.

BOND MARKET

Early in 2012, the U.S. economy appeared to be in a period of slow but stable growth. As a result, the Treasury market was fairly quiet. The yield on the benchmark 10-year Treasury note rose slightly following improving economic data and solid corporate earnings. However, indications of slowing domestic and global growth started in late March, increasing global demand for safe-haven Treasuries. As Europe's sovereign debt situation worsened, the U.S. Treasury market began a steady rally that left the 10-year note at generational lows. By late July, at the height of global recession concerns, the 10-year yield touched an all-time low of 1.39%. In addition, the Federal Reserve pledged in September, and expanded on its commitment in December, to continue its aggressive bond buying program, effectively limiting any meaningful increase in yields.

U.S. negotiations to avert the year-end fiscal cliff and the European Central Bank's aggressive bond-buying actions to address the European debt crisis affected markets in the second half of the year. However, Treasury yields held within a narrow margin; the 10-year note broke above 1.8% several times from August through December, only to drop below 1.6% subsequently. While economic growth seems to be slowly improving in the U.S. and more strongly in the emerging markets, the Fed's low interest rate policy and bond buying programs are dampening any dramatic moves in the U.S. Treasury market.

U.S. Treasuries benefit from lower growth, which dampen projected inflation. Current expectations of low inflation, and possibly even deflation, permeate the investment psyche. Furthermore, a flight to quality into Treasury notes and bonds occurs when there is global strife. Corporate bonds have benefited from a combination of very solid balance sheet management and lower so-called risk-free yields. Additionally, sovereign debt of other nations has done well.

Our bond portfolio currently contains corporate bonds, Treasuries, Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS), and foreign government bonds of stable countries, such as Australia. We made several moves over the last year, at times owning somewhat higher duration (duration is a measure, in years, of a bond's interest rate risk). However, our view is that stocks generally offer a slightly better risk/reward profile. At year-end, the fund had 36% of its assets in bonds with an average low duration of two years. We continue to look for ways to increase yield within the portfolio without taking additional duration risk. As always we remain flexible.

PORTFOLIO COMPOSITION

On December 31, 2012, the Fund's leading equity sectors included financials, information technology, health care, energy, and consumer discretionary. During the second half of the year, we increased our weighting of financials and energy and reduced our weighting of consumer staples and information technology. The portfolio is generally positioned for a somewhat better-than-expected economic growth picture tied to both consumer and cyclical stocks. We continue to be diversified in a number of sectors and industries, but are underrepresented in stocks that are considered defensive. We see better relative value in more cyclically sensitive areas and have more holdings in names that will benefit from a global economic recovery.

The Fund's leading individual equity positions on December 31, 2012 included Abbott Laboratories, Apple, BlackRock, DuPont, Freeport-McMoRan, Johnson & Johnson, JPMorgan Chase, QUALCOMM, Verizon, and Williams.

During the second half of the year, we acquired BlackRock and Freeport-McMoRan and added to our positions on DuPont and Johnson & Johnson. No longer in the leading positions are Altria and IBM, where we trimmed our positions, and Intel, which we sold out. There was no change in the shares held of PepsiCo, which appeared in our previous listing.

Sincerely,

Carlton Neel

- (1) Closing Price New York Stock Exchange.
- (2) Total investment return is calculated assuming a purchase of a share of the Fund's common stock at the opening NYSE share price on the first business day and a sale at the closing NYSE share price on the last business day of each period reported. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for the purpose of this calculation, to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan. Generally, total investment return based on net asset value will be higher than total investment return based on market value in periods where there is an increase in the discount or a decrease in the premium of the market value to the net assets from the beginning to the end of such years. Conversely, total investment return based on net asset value will be lower than total investment return based on market value in periods where there is a decrease in the discount or an increase in the premium of the market value to the net asset value from the beginning to the end of such periods.
- (3) Computed using average shares outstanding
- (4) Amount is less than $0.005.
- (5) NAV Return is calculated using the opening Net Asset Value price of the Fund's common stock on the first business day and the closing Net Asset Value price of the Fund's common stock on the last business day of each period reported. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for the purpose of this calculation, to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan.
- (6) Shares were sold at a 5% discount from a 5 day average market price from 1/3/11 to 1/7/11.
- (7) Total investment return includes the dilutive effect of the 2011 rights offering. Without this effect, the total investment return would have been (2.59)%.
- (8) The Fund had a 1:4 reverse stock split with ex-dividend date of June 27, 2012. Prior year net asset values and per share amounts have been restated to reflect the impact of the reverse stock split. (See Notes to Financial Statements). The net asset value and market price reported at the original dates prior to the reverse stock split were as follows:

For the Years Ended December 31,	2011	2010	2009	2008
Net Asset Value (prior to reverse stock split)	$ 3.57	$ 3.99	$ 4.13	$ 4.00
Market Price (prior to reverse stock split)	$ 3.03	$ 3.56	$ 3.91	$ 3.37

- (9) The fund incurred certain non-recurring proxy and reverse stock split costs in 2012. When excluding these costs, the Ratio of expenses to average net assets (after expense waivers) would be 0.87% and the Ratio of expenses to average net assets (before expense waivers) would be 1.01%.

THE ZWEIG TOTAL RETURN FUND, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2012

NOTE 1 ORGANIZATION

The Zweig Total Return Fund, Inc. (the Fund) is a closed-end, diversified management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the Act). The Fund was incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland on July 21, 1988. The Fund's investment objective is to seek total return, consisting of capital appreciation and income.

NOTE 2 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principals generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates and those differences could be significant.

A. Security Valuation:

Security valuation procedures for the Fund, which include, nightly price variance, as well as back-testing such as bi-weekly unchanged price, monthly secondary source and transaction analysis, have been approved by the Board of Directors. All internally fair valued securities are approved by a valuation committee appointed by the Board. The valuation committee is comprised of the treasurer, assistant treasurer, secretary and chief compliance officer for the Fund. All internally fair valued securities, referred to below, are updated daily and reviewed in detail by the valuation committee monthly unless changes occur within the period. The valuation committee reviews the validity of the model inputs and any changes to the model. Internal fair valuations are ratified by the Board of Directors at least quarterly.

The Fund utilizes a fair value hierarchy which prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels.

Level 1 quoted prices in active markets for identical securities

Level 2 prices determined using other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)

Level 3 prices determined using significant unobservable inputs (including the valuation committee's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

A description of the valuation techniques applied to the Fund's major categories of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis is as follows:

Equity securities are valued at the official closing price (typically last sale) on the exchange on which the securities are primarily traded, or if no closing price is available, at the last bid price and are categorized as Level 1 in the hierarchy. Restricted equity securities and private placements that are not widely traded, are illiquid or are internally fair valued by the valuation committee, are generally categorized as Level 3 in the hierarchy.

Certain foreign securities may be fair valued in cases where closing prices are not readily available or are deemed not reflective of readily available market prices. For example, significant events (such as movement in the U.S. securities market, or other regional and local developments) may occur between the time that foreign markets close (where the security is principally traded) and the time that the Fund calculates its net asset value (generally, the close of the NYSE) that may impact the value of securities traded in these foreign markets. In such cases the Fund fair values foreign securities using an external pricing service which considers the correlation of the trading patterns of the foreign security to the intraday trading in the U.S. markets for investments such as American Depositary Receipts, financial futures, exchange-traded funds, and certain indexes as well as prices for similar securities. Such fair valuations are categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Because the frequency of significant events is not predictable, fair valuation of certain foreign common stocks may occur on a frequent basis.

Debt securities, including restricted securities, are valued based on evaluated quotations received from independent pricing services or from dealers who make markets in such securities. For most bond types, the pricing service utilizes matrix pricing which considers yield or price of bonds of comparable quality, coupon, maturity, current cash flows, type, and current day trade information, as well as dealer supplied prices. These valuations are generally categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Structured debt instruments such as mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities may also incorporate collateral analysis and utilize cash flow models for valuation and are generally categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Pricing services do not provide pricing for all securities and therefore dealer supplied prices are utilized representing indicative bids based on pricing models used by market makers in the security and are generally categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Debt securities that are not widely traded, are illiquid, or are internally fair valued by the valuation committee are generally categorized as Level 3 in the hierarchy.

Listed derivatives, such as options, that are actively traded are valued based on quoted prices from the exchange and are categorized as Level 1 in the hierarchy. Over the counter (OTC) derivative contracts, which include forward currency contracts and equity linked instruments are valued based on inputs observed from actively quoted markets and are categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy.

Investments in open-end mutual funds are valued at their closing net asset value determined as of the close of business of the New York Stock Exchange (generally 4:00 p.m. Eastern time) each business day and are categorized as Level 1 in the hierarchy.

Short-term notes having a remaining maturity of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market and are generally categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy.

A summary of the inputs used to value the Fund's major categories of assets and liabilities, which primarily include investments of the Fund, by each major security type is disclosed at the end of the Schedule of Investments for the Fund. The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

B. Security Transactions and Investment Income:

Security transactions are recorded on the trade date. Realized gains and losses from sales of securities are determined on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date, or in the case of certain foreign securities, as soon as the Fund is notified. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. The Fund amortizes premiums and accretes discounts using the effective interest method.

C. Income Taxes:

The Fund is treated as a separate taxable entity. It is the Fund's intention to comply with the requirements of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no provision for federal income taxes or excise taxes has been made.

The Fund may be subject to foreign taxes on income, gains on investments or currency repatriation, a portion of which may be recoverable. The Fund will accrue such taxes and recoveries as applicable based upon current interpretations of the tax rules and regulations that exist in the markets in which it invests.

The Fund has adopted the authoritative guidance on accounting for and disclosure of uncertainty in tax positions, which requires the Fund to determine whether a tax position is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits of the position. The Fund has determined that there was no effect on the financial statements from the adoption of this authoritative guidance. As of December 31, 2012, the tax years that remain subject to examination by the major tax jurisdictions under the statute of limitations are from the year 2009 forward (with limited exceptions).

D. Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders:

Distributions are recorded by the Fund on the ex-dividend date. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences may include the treatment of non-taxable dividends, market premium and discount, non-deductible expenses, foreign currency gain or loss, operating losses and losses deferred due to wash sales. Permanent book and tax basis differences relating to shareholder distributions will result in reclassifications to capital paid in on shares of beneficial interest.

The Fund has a Managed Distribution Plan to pay 7 percent of the Fund's net asset value (NAV) on an annualized basis. Distributions may represent earnings from net investment income, realized capital gains, or, if necessary, return of capital. Shareholders should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the terms of the Fund's Managed Distribution Plan.

E. Foreign Currency Translation:

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the foreign currency exchange rate effective at the end of the reporting period. Cost of investments is translated at the currency exchange rate effective at the trade date. The gain or loss resulting from a change in currency exchange rates between the trade and settlement date of a portfolio transaction is treated as a gain or loss on foreign currency. Likewise, the gain or loss resulting from a change in currency exchange rates between the date income is accrued and paid is treated as a gain or loss on foreign currency. The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations arising from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments.

F. Derivative Financial Instruments:

Disclosures on derivatives instruments and hedging activities are intended to improve financial reporting for derivative instruments by enhanced disclosure that enables the investors to understand how and why a fund uses derivatives, how derivatives are accounted for, and how derivative instruments affect a fund's results of operations and financial position. Summarized below is a specific type of derivative instrument used by the Fund.

Options Contracts

An options contract provides the purchaser with the right, but not the obligation, to buy (call option) or sell (put option) a financial instrument at an agreed upon price. The Fund may purchase or write listed covered and uncovered put and call options on portfolio securities for hedging purposes or to facilitate the rapid implementation of investment strategies if the Fund anticipates a significant market or market sector advance. The Fund is subject to equity price risk in the normal course of pursuing its investment objectives. The Fund may use options contracts to hedge against changes in the values of equities or for yield enhancement.

When the Fund purchases an option, it pays a premium and an amount equal to that premium is recorded as an asset. When the Fund writes an option, it receives a premium and an amount equal to that premium is recorded as a liability. The asset or liability is adjusted daily to reflect the current market value of the option. Holdings of the Fund designated to cover outstanding written options are noted in the Schedules of Investments. Purchased options are reported as an asset within Investment securities at value before written options on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Options written are reported as a liability within Written options outstanding at value. Changes in value of the purchased option is included in unrealized appreciation/(depreciation) on investments on the Statement of Operations. Changes in value of written options is included in unrealized appreciation/(depreciation) on written options on the Statement of Operations.

If an option expires unexercised, the Portfolio realizes a gain or loss to the extent of the premium received or paid. If an option is exercised, the premium received or paid is recorded as an adjustment to the proceeds from the sale or the cost basis of the purchase. The difference between the premium and the amount received or paid on effecting a closing purchase or sale transaction is also treated as a realized gain or loss. Gain or loss on purchased options is included in net realized gain/(loss) on investment transactions on the Statement of Operations. Gain or loss on written options is presented separately as net realized gain/(loss) on written options transactions on the Statement of Operations.

The risk in writing call options is that the Fund gives up the opportunity for profit if the market price of the security increases and the option is exercised. The risk in writing put options is that the Fund may incur a loss if the market price of the security decreases and the option is exercised. The risk in buying options is that the Fund pays a premium whether or not the option is exercised. The use of such instruments may involve certain additional risks as a result of unanticipated movements in the market. Writers (sellers) of options are subject to unlimited risk of loss, as the seller will be obligated to deliver or take delivery of the security at a predetermined price which may, upon exercise of the option, be significantly different from the then-market value.

G. Short Sales:

($ reported in thousands)

A short sale is a transaction in which the Fund sells a security it does not own in anticipation of a decline in market price. To sell a security short, the Fund must borrow the security. The Fund's obligation to replace the security borrowed and sold short will be fully collateralized at all times by the proceeds from the short sale retained by the broker and by cash and securities deposited in a segregated account with the Fund's custodian. If the price of the security sold short increases between the time of the short sale and the time the Fund replaces the borrowed security, the Fund will realize a loss, and if the price declines during the period, the Fund will realize a gain. Any realized gain will be decreased by, and any realized loss increased by, the amount of transaction costs. Dividends on short sales are recorded as an expense to the Fund on ex-dividend date. At December 31, 2012 the value of securities sold short amounted to $11,033 against which collateral of $18,558 was held. The collateral includes the deposits with broker for securities held short and the value of the segregated investments held long, as shown in the Schedule of Investments and Securities Sold Short. Short selling used in the management of the Fund may accelerate the velocity of potential losses if the prices of securities sold short appreciate quickly. Stocks purchased may decline in value at the same time stocks sold short may appreciate in value, thereby increasing potential losses.

However, the Fund has not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these arrangements.

NOTE 7 CAPITAL STOCK AND REINVESTMENT PLAN

At December 31, 2012, the Fund had one class of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which 500,000,000 shares are authorized and 34,966,839 shares are outstanding.

Registered shareholders may elect to have all distributions paid by check mailed directly to the shareholder by Computershare as dividend paying agent. Pursuant to the Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan (the Plan), shareholders not making such election will have all such amounts automatically reinvested by Computershare, as the Plan agent, in whole or fractional shares of the Fund, as the case may be. During the periods ended December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011, there were no shares issued pursuant to the Plan.

Pursuant to the Board approved stock repurchase program, the Fund may repurchase up to 10% of its outstanding shares in the open market at a discount to NAV. The Fund started its buyback of shares on April 11, 2012. From the period of April 11, 2012 through December 31, 2012, the Fund repurchased 1,056,847 shares at an average price of $12.47. The average weekly discount during this period was 12.36%. There are 2,545,522 shares remaining that are authorized to be purchased under the repurchase plan in the future.

In a non-transferable rights offering ended January 7, 2011, shareholders exercised rights to purchase 7,375,000 shares of common stock at an offering price of $13.36 per share for proceeds, net of expenses of $97,989,000. Shares and per share amounts have been restated to reflect the affects of the 1-for-4 reverse stock split.

On January 2, 2013, the Fund announced a distribution of $0.082 per share to shareholders of record on December 31, 2012. This distribution has an ex-dividend date of January 3, 2013, and is payable on January 9, 2013. Please see inside front cover for more information on the Fund's distributions.

NOTE 8 REVERSE STOCK SPLIT

Prior to the opening of trading on the NYSE on June 27, 2012, the Fund implemented a 1 for 4 reverse stock split. The Fund's shares are trading on a split-adjusted basis under a new CUSIP number (989837208). The net effect of the Fund's reverse stock split was to decrease the number of the Fund's outstanding common shares and increase the net asset value per common share by a proportionate amount. While the number of the Fund's outstanding common shares declined, neither the Fund's holdings nor the total value of shareholders' investments were affected. Immediately after the reverse stock split, each common shareholder held the same percentage of the Fund's outstanding common shares that he or she held immediately prior to the reverse stock split, subject to adjustments for fractional shares resulting from the split. Capital share activity referenced on the Statement of Changes in Net Assets, and per share data, including the proportionate impact to market price, in the Financial Highlights table have been restated to reflect the reverse stock split.

Note 9 BORROWINGS

The Fund employs leverage in the form of borrowing on margin, which allows the Fund to use its long positions as collateral, in order to purchase additional securities. Borrowings are secured by assets of the Fund that are held with the Fund's custodian in a separate account. The Fund is permitted to borrow up to 33.33% of its total assets.

Effective December 10, 2012, the Fund began using margin financing. During the year ended December 31, 2012, the fund utilized margin financing for 22 days at an average interest rate of 0.58% and with an average daily borrowing balance during that period of $4,950. As of December 31, 2012, outstanding margin debt amounted to $7,000, which is located under Borrowings on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. For the year ended December 31, 2012, the interest costs related to borrowing amounted to $2 and are included within the Interest Expense on the Statement of Operations.

NOTE 10 CREDIT RISK AND ASSET CONCENTRATIONS

In countries with limited or developing markets, investments may present greater risks than in more developed markets and the prices of such investments may be volatile. The consequences of political, social or economic changes in these markets may have disruptive effects on the market prices of these investments and the income they generate, as well as the Fund's ability to repatriate such amounts.

The Fund may invest a high percentage of its assets in specific sectors of the market in its pursuit of a greater investment return. Fluctuations in these sectors of concentration may have a greater impact on the Fund, positive or negative, than if the Fund did not concentrate its investments in such sectors.

At December 31, 2012, the Fund held 26% of its total investments in U.S. Government securities.

NOTE 11 REGULATORY EXAMS

Federal and state regulatory authorities from time to time make inquiries and conduct examinations regarding compliance by Virtus and its subsidiaries (collectively the Company) with securities and other laws and regulations affecting their registered products.

There are currently no such matters which the Company believes will be material to these financial statements.

NOTE 12 FEDERAL INCOME TAX INFORMATION

($ reported in thousands)

At December 31, 2012, federal tax cost and aggregate gross unrealized appreciation (depreciation) of securities held by the Fund were as follows:

	Federal Tax Cost	Unrealized Appreciation	Unrealized Depreciation	Net Unrealized Appreciation (Depreciation)
Investments	$ 448,342	$ 52,970	$ (3,650)	$ 49,320
Securities Sold Short	(10,559)	37	(511)	(474)
Written Options	(225)	78	(17)	61

Capital losses realized after October 31 and certain late year losses may be deferred and treated as occurring on the first day of the following fiscal year. For the fiscal year ended December 31, 2012, the Fund deferred ordinary losses of $0, and recognized qualified late year losses of $45.

The components of distributable earnings on a tax basis (excluding unrealized appreciation (depreciation) which is disclosed in the table above) consist of undistributed ordinary income of $0 and undistributed long-term capital gains of $0.

The differences between the book and tax basis components of distributable earnings relate principally to the timing of recognition of income and gains for federal income tax purposes. Short-term gain distributions reported in the Statement of Changes in Net Assets, if any, are reported as ordinary income for federal tax purposes. Distributions are determined on a tax basis and may differ from net investment income and realized capital gains for financial reporting purposes.

The tax character of dividends and distributions paid during the years ended December 31, 2012 and 2011 was as follows:

	Year Ended
	12/31/12	12/31/11
Ordinary income	$ 10,100	$ 12,835

NOTE 14 RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENT

In December 2011, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2011-11 regarding Disclosures about Offsetting Assets and Liabilities . The amendments, which will be effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2013 and interim periods within those annual periods, require an entity to disclose information about offsetting and related arrangements for assets and liabilities, financial instruments and derivatives that are either currently offset in accordance with current requirements or are subject to enforceable master netting arrangements or similar agreements. At this time, management is evaluating the implications of ASU No. 2011-11 and its impact on the financial statements has not yet been determined.

NOTE 15 SUBSEQUENT EVENT EVALUATIONS

Management has evaluated the impact of all subsequent events on the Fund through the date the financial statements were issued, and has determined that the following subsequent event requires recognition or disclosure in these financial statements.

Effective January 1, 2013, with the approval of the Board, VP Distributors, LLC, the Funds former administrator, assigned its rights and obligations under the Administration Agreements to Virtus Fund Services, LLC.

Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan

The Zweig Total Return Fund, Inc. (the Fund) allows you to conveniently reinvest distributions monthly in additional Fund shares thereby enabling you to compound your returns from the Fund. By choosing to reinvest, you will be able to invest money regularly and automatically, and watch your investment grow.

It is important to note that an automatic reinvestment plan does not ensure a profit, nor does it protect you against loss in a declining market.

Enrollment in the Reinvestment Plan

It is the policy of the Fund to automatically reinvest distributions payable to shareholders. A registered shareholder automatically becomes a participant in the Fund's Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan (the Plan). The Plan authorizes the Fund to credit all shares of common stock to participants upon a distribution regardless of whether the shares are trading at a discount or premium to the net asset value. Registered shareholders may terminate their participation and receive distributions in cash by contacting Computershare Trust Company, N.A. (the Plan Administrator). The termination will become effective with the next distribution if the Plan Administrator is notified at least 7 business days prior to the distribution payment date. Registered shareholders that wish to change their distribution option from cash payment to reinvest may do so by contacting the Plan Administrator at 1-800-272-2700.

In the case of banks, brokers, or other nominees which hold your shares for you as the beneficial owner, the Plan Administrator will administer the Plan based on the information provided by the bank, broker or nominee. To the extent that you wish to participate in the Plan, you should contact the broker, bank or nominee holding your shares to ensure that your account is properly represented. If necessary, you may have your shares taken out of the name of the broker, bank or nominee and register them in your own name.

How shares are purchased through the Reinvestment Plan

When a distribution is declared, nonparticipants in the plan will receive cash. Participants in the Plan will receive shares of the Fund valued as described below:

If on the payable date of the distribution, the market price of the Fund's common stock is less than the net asset value, the Plan Administrator will buy Fund shares on behalf of the Participant in the open market, on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) or elsewhere. The price per share will be equal to the weighted average price of all shares purchased, including commissions. Commission rates are currently $0.02 per share, although the rate is subject to change and may vary. If, following the commencement of purchases and before the Plan Administrator has completed its purchases, the trading price equals or exceeds the most recent net asset value of the common shares, the Plan Administrator may cease purchasing shares on the open market and the Fund may issue the remaining shares at a price equal to the greater of (a) the net asset value on the last day the Plan Administrator purchased shares or (b) 95% of the market price on such day. In the case where the Plan Administrator has terminated open market purchases and the Fund has issued the remaining shares, the number of shares received by the Participant in respect of the cash distribution will be based on the weighted average of prices paid for shares purchased in the open market and the price at which the Fund issued the remaining shares. Under certain circumstances, the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission may require limitation or temporary suspension of market purchases of shares under the Plan. The Plan Administrator will not be accountable for its inability to make a purchase during such a period.

If on the payable date of the distribution, the market price is equal to or exceeds the net asset value, Participants will be issued new shares by the Fund at the greater of the (a) the net asset value on the payable date or (b) 95% of the market price on such date.

The automatic reinvestment of distributions will not relieve Participants of any income tax which may be payable on such distributions. A Participant in the Plan will be treated for federal income tax purposes, as having received on a payment date, a distribution in an amount equal to the cash the participant could have received instead of shares. If you participate in the Plan, you will receive a Form 1099-DIV concerning the Federal tax status of distributions paid during the year.

Voluntary Cash Purchase Plan

Participants in the Plan have the option of making additional cash payments for investment in shares of the Fund. Such payments can be made in any amount from $100 per payment to $3,000 per month. The Plan Administrator will use the funds received to purchase Fund shares in the open market on the 15th of each month or the next business day if the 15th falls on a weekend or holiday (the Investment Date). The purchase price per share will be equal to the weighted average price of all shares purchased on the Investment Date, including commissions. There is no charge to shareholders for Cash Purchases. The plan administrator's fee will be paid by the Fund. However, each participating shareholder will pay pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred (currently $0.02 per share, but may vary and is subject to change) with respect to the Plan Administrator's open market purchases in connection with all cash investments. Voluntary cash payments should be sent to Computershare Trust Company, N.A., PO Box 43078, Providence, RI 02940-3078.

Participants have an unconditional right to obtain the return of any cash payment if the Plan Administrator receives written notice at least 5 business days before such payment is to be invested.

Automatic Monthly Investment

Participants in the Plan may purchase additional shares by means of an Automatic Monthly Investment of not less than $100 nor more than $3,000 per month by electronic funds transfer from a predesignated U.S bank account. If a Participant has already established a Plan account and wishes to initiate Automatic Monthly Investments, the Participant must complete and sign an automatic monthly investment form and return it to the Plan Administrator together with a voided check or deposit slip for the account from which funds are to be withdrawn. Automatic monthly investment forms may be obtained from the Plan Administrator by calling 1-800-272-2700.

Termination of Shares

Shareholders wishing to liquidate shares held with the Plan Administrator must do so in writing or by calling 1-800-272-2700. The Plan Administrator does not charge a fee for liquidating your shares; however, currently a brokerage commission of $0.02 will be charged. This charge may vary and is subject to change.

Once terminated, you may re-enroll in the Plan (provided you still have shares registered in your name) by contacting the Plan Administrator at 1-800-272-2700.

Additional Information

For more information regarding the Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan, please contact the Plan Administrator at 1-800-272-2700 or visit our website at Virtus.com.

The Fund reserves the right to amend or terminate the Plan as applied to any voluntary cash payments made and any dividend or distribution paid subsequent to written notice of the change sent to the members of the Plan at least 90 days before the record date for such distribution. The Plan also may be amended or terminated by the Plan Administrator with at least 90 days written notice to participants in the Plan.

Potential Conflicts of Interests

There may be certain inherent conflicts of interest that arise in connection with the Mr. Neel's and Mr. Dickerson's management of each Fund's investments and the investments of any other accounts they manage individually or together. Such conflicts could arise from the aggregation of orders for all accounts managed by a particular portfolio manager, the allocation of purchases across all such accounts, the allocation of IPOs and any soft dollar arrangements that the Adviser may have in place that could benefit the Funds and/or such other accounts. The Board of Trustees/Directors has adopted on behalf of the Funds policies and procedures designed to address any such conflicts of interest to ensure that all transactions are executed in the best interest of the Funds' shareholders. The Advisers and Sub adviser are required to certify their compliance with these procedures to the Board of Trustees on a quarterly basis. There have been no material compliance issues with respect to any of these policies and procedures during the Funds' most recent fiscal year ended December 31, 2012. Additionally, there are no material conflicts of interest between the investment strategy of a Fund and the investment strategy of other accounts managed by Mr. Neel and Mr. Dickerson since portfolio managers generally manage funds and other accounts having similar investment strategies.

(a)(3) Compensation Structure of Portfolio Manager(s) or Management Team Members

For the most recently completed fiscal year ended December 31, 2012, following is a description of Mr. Neel's and Mr. Dickerson's compensation structure as portfolio managers of ZA.

Virtus and certain of its affiliated investment management firms, including Duff & Phelps, Euclid, Kayne, Newfleet and Newfound (collectively, "Virtus"), believe that the firm's compensation program is adequate and competitive to attract and retain high-caliber investment professionals. Investment professionals at Virtus receive a competitive base salary, an incentive bonus opportunity and a benefits package. Certain professionals who supervise and manage others also participate in a management incentive program reflecting their personal contribution and team performance. Certain key individuals also have the opportunity to take advantage of a long-term incentive compensation program, including potential awards of Virtus restricted stock units ("Virtus RSUs") with multi-year vesting, subject to Virtus board of directors' approval.

Following is a more detailed description of Virtus' compensation structure.

Base Salary. Each portfolio manager is paid a fixed base salary, which is designed to be competitive in light of the individual's experience and responsibilities. Base salary is determined using compensation survey results of investment industry compensation conducted by an independent third party in evaluating competitive market compensation for its investment management professionals.

Incentive Bonus. Annual incentive payments are based on targeted compensation levels, adjusted based on profitability, investment performance factors and a subjective assessment of contribution to the team effort. The short-term incentive payment is generally paid in cash, but a portion may be made in Virtus RSUs. Individual payments are assessed using comparisons of actual investment performance with specific peer group or index measures. Performance of the Funds managed is generally measured over one-, three- and five year periods and an individual manager's participation is based on the performance of each Fund/account managed.

While portfolio manager compensation contains a performance component, this component is adjusted to reward investment personnel for managing within the stated framework and for not taking unnecessary risk. This approach ensures that investment management personnel remain focused on managing and acquiring securities that correspond to a Fund's mandate and risk profile and are discouraged from taking on more risk and unnecessary exposure to chase performance for personal gain. Virtus believes it has appropriate controls in place to handle any potential conflicts that may result from a substantial portion of portfolio manager compensation being tied to performance.

Other benefits. Portfolio managers are also eligible to participate in broad-based plans offered generally to employees of Virtus and its affiliates, including 401(k), health and other employee benefit plans.

In summary, the Investment Manager believes that overall compensation is both fair and competitive while rewarding employees for not taking unnecessary risks to chase personal performance.

(a)(4) Disclosure of Securities Ownership

For the most recently completed fiscal year ended December 31, 2012, beneficial ownership of shares of the Fund by Messrs. Dickerson and Neel are as follows. Beneficial ownership was determined in accordance with rule 16a-1(a)(2) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (17 CFR 240.161-1(a)(2)).
