Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

Amended and Restated LLC Agreement

On October 19, 2016, the Company entered into the third amended and restated limited liability company agreement (the A&R LLC Agreement) of Rice Energy Operating LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (formerly known as Rice Energy Appalachia, LLC) (REO). Under the A&R LLC Agreement, the Company is a member and the sole manager of REO. As the sole manager, the Company controls all of the day-to-day business affairs and decision making of REO without the approval of any other member, unless otherwise stated in the A&R LLC Agreement. As such, the Company, through its officers and directors, is responsible for all operational and administrative decisions of REO and the day-to-day management of REO's business. Pursuant to the terms of the A&R LLC Agreement, the Company cannot, under any circumstances, be removed or replaced as the sole manager of REO, except by its own election so long as it remains a member of REO. The material terms of the A&R LLC Agreement are described below. The foregoing description is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the A&R LLC Agreement, which is attached as Exhibit 10.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and incorporated in this Item 1.01 by reference.

Compensation. The Company is not entitled to compensation for its services as sole manager. The Company is entitled to reimbursement by REO for any reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred on behalf of REO, including all fees, expenses and costs of being a public company (including public reporting obligations, proxy statements, stockholder meetings, stock exchange fees, transfer agent fees, Securities and Exchange Commission and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority filing fees and offering expenses) and maintaining its corporate existence.

Recapitalization. The A&R LLC Agreement provides for (a) the conversion of all outstanding membership interests in REO into newly issued common units in REO (the Common Units), (b) the issuance of Common Units to each of the Vantage Sellers as partial consideration for the Vantage Acquisition and (c) the admission of the Vantage Sellers as members of REO. Each Common Unit entitles the holder to a pro rata share of the net profits and losses and distributions of REO.

Distributions. The A&R LLC Agreement allows for distributions to be made by REO to its members on a pro rata basis out of distributable cash (as defined in the A&R LLC Agreement). The Company expects to cause REO to make distributions out of cash periodically to the extent permitted by the debt agreements of REO as necessary to make dividend payments, if any, to holders of common stock of the Company. In addition, the A&R LLC Agreement generally requires REO to make pro rata distributions to its members, including the Company, in an amount at least sufficient to allow each member to pay any tax it incurs as a result of income allocated to such member by REO.

Redemption Right. The A&R LLC Agreement provides each member of REO, other than the Company, a redemption right to the Vantage Sellers which entitles them to cause REO to redeem, from time to time, all or a portion of its Common Units. Each Common Unit will be redeemed for, at REO's option, a newly-issued share of the Company's Common Stock, par value $0.01 per share (the "Common Stock") or a cash payment equal to the volume-weighted average closing price of one share of Common Stock for the five trading days prior to and including the last full trading day immediately prior to the date that the member delivers a notice of redemption (subject to customary adjustments, including for stock splits, stock dividends and reclassifications). In the event of a reclassification event (as defined in the A&R LLC Agreement), the manager is required to ensure that each Common Unit is redeemable for the same amount and type of property, securities or cash that one share of Common Stock becomes exchangeable for or converted into as a result of such reclassification event. Upon the exercise of the redemption right, the redeeming member will surrender its Common Units to REO.

such Common Units and 1/1000th of a share of Class A Preferred Stock, par value $0.01 per share (the Preferred Stock) in respect of each redeemed unit, in each case free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, to REO for cancellation. The A&R LLC Agreement requires that the Company contribute cash or share of its Common Stock to REO in exchange for a number of REO Common Units in REO equal to the number of REO Common Units to be redeemed from the member. REO will then distribute such cash or shares of the Company's Common Stock to such Vantage Seller to complete the redemption. Upon the exercise of the redemption right, the Company may, at its option, effect a direct exchange of the Common Units (and the corresponding shares of Preferred Stock (or fractions thereof) from the redemption member.

Change of Control. In connection with the occurrence of a manager change of control (as defined below, the Company has the right to require each member of REO (other than the Company) to cause REO to redeem some or all of such member's Common Units and 1/1000~~0~~ of a share of Preferred Stock in respect of each such Common Unit, in each case, effective immediately prior to the consummation of the manager change of control. From and after the date of such redemption, the Common Units and shares of Preferred Stock (or fractions thereof) subject to redemption shall be deemed to be transferred to the Company and each such member shall cease to have any rights with respect to the Common Units and shares of Preferred Stock (or fractions thereof) subject to such redemption (other than the right to receive shares of Common Stock pursuant to such redemption). A manager change of control will be deemed to have occurred if or upon: (1) the consummation of a sale, lease or transfer of all or substantially all of the Company's assets (determined on a consolidated basis) to any person or group (as such term is used in Section 13(d)(3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act)) that has been approved by the Company's stockholders and board of directors (ii) a merger or consolidation of the Company with any other person (other than a transaction in which the Company's voting securities outstanding immediately prior to the transaction continue to represent at least 50.01% of the Company's or the surviving entity's total voting securities following the transaction) that has been approved by our stockholders and the board of directors or (iii) subject to certain exceptions, the acquisition by any person or group (as such term is used in Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act) of beneficial ownership of at least 50.01% of the Company's voting securities, if recommended or approved by the board of directors or determined by the board of directors to be in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders.

Maintenance of One-to-One Ratios. The A&R LLC Agreement includes provisions intended to ensure that the Company at all times maintains (a) a one-to-one ratio between the number of outstanding shares of Common Stock and the number of Common Units owned by the Company (subject to certain exemptions for certain rights to purchase Company equity securities under a poison pill or similar shareholder rights plan, if any, certain convertible or exchangeable securities issued under the Company's equity compensation plans and certain equity securities issued pursuant to the Company's equity compensation plans and stock option (other than a stock option plan) that are restricted or have not vested thereunder) and (b) a 1,000-to-one ratio between the number of outstanding shares of Preferred Stock owned by each Vantage Seller to the number of Common Units owned by such Vantage Seller. The Preferred Stock is intended to result in the Vantage Sellers having a voting interest in the Company that is identical to the Vantage Sellers' economic interest in REO.

Transfer Restrictions. The A&R LLC Agreement generally does not permit transfers of the Common Units by members, subject to limited exceptions. Any transferee of the Common Units must assume, by operation of law or written agreement, all of the obligations of a transferring member with respect to the transferred units, even if the transferee is not admitted as a member of REO.

Dissolution. The A&R LLC Agreement provides that the consent of the Company, as manager, will be required to voluntarily dissolve REO. In addition to a voluntary dissolution, REO will be dissolved upon the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution or other circumstances in accordance with Delaware law. Upon a dissolution event, the proceeds of a liquidation will be distributed in the following order: (1) first, to pay the expenses of winding up REO, (2) second, to pay debts and liabilities owned to creditors of REO and (3) third, to the members pro-rata in accordance with their respective percentage ownership interests in REO (as determined based on the number of REO Common Units held by a member relative to the aggregate number of all outstanding REO Common Units).

Confidentiality. Each member agrees to maintain the confidentiality of REO's confidential information. This obligation excludes information independently obtained or developed by the members, information that is in the public domain or otherwise disclosed to a member, in either such case not in violation of a confidentiality obligation or disclosures required by law or judicial process or approved by the Company's chief executive officer.

Indemnification and Exculpation. The A&R LLC Agreement provides for indemnification of the manager, members and officers of REO and their respective subsidiaries or affiliates and provides that, except as otherwise provided therein, the Company, as managing member of REO, has the same fiduciary duties to REO and its members as are owed to a corporation organized under Delaware law and its stockholders by its directors.

Investor Rights Agreement

In connection with the Vantage Closing, on October 19, 2016, the Company entered into an investor rights agreement (the Investor Rights Agreement) with REO and the Vantage Sellers, pursuant to which the Vantage Sellers will be entitled to certain registration rights relating to the Company's Common Stock issuable upon redemption or exchange of REO Common Units. The Company previously announced that the Company would increase the size of the Company's board of directors by one member and grant the Vantage Sellers the right to nominate one director pursuant to the Vantage Purchase Agreement and the Investor Rights Agreement; however, the Vantage Sellers waived this right in connection with the Vantage Closing. Therefore, the Vantage Sellers do not have any contractual right to nominate directors to the Company's board of directors.

A copy of the Investor Rights Agreement is filed with this Current Report on Form 8-K as Exhibit 4.1 and is incorporated herein by reference and the foregoing description of the Investor Rights Agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference thereto.

The Supplemental Indentures provide for, among other things, the addition of REO as a co-obligor under each Indenture. The Company and REO also entered into a Debt Assumption Agreement, dated as of October 19, 2016, pursuant to which REO agreed to being the primary obligator for purposes of any payments under the Indentures. Copies of the Supplemental Indentures are filed with this Current Report on Form 8-K as Exhibits 10.2 and 10.3, respectively, and are incorporated herein by reference and the foregoing description of the Supplemental Indentures is qualified in its entirety by reference thereto.

Among other things, in connection with the A&R Credit Agreement, the Company assigned all of its rights and obligations under the credit facility to REO, and REO assumed all such rights and obligations as borrower under the

A&R Credit Agreement. Furthermore, the A&R Credit Agreement (i) extended the maturity date of the credit facility from January 29, 2019 to October 19, 2021, (ii) increased the borrowing base from $875,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 without giving effect to the oil and gas properties acquired pursuant to the Vantage Acquisition, (iii) added the Company as a guarantor, (iv) increased the minimum required mortgage percentage (as it applies to proved reserves) to be 85% of proved reserves, (v) amended the restricted payments covenant to permit certain distributions by REO to its members, (vi) replaced the interest coverage ratio with a consolidated total leverage ratio or consolidated net leverage ratio, as applicable, to commence with the last day of the fiscal quarter ended December 31, 2016 and (vii) adjusted the interest rate payable on amounts borrowed thereunder.

The foregoing description of the A&R Credit Agreement is a summary only and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the A&R Credit Agreement, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit 10.4 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and is incorporated herein by reference.
