EMPLOYEE FAQ #2

TRANSACTION DETAILS

What are the conditions to completing the transaction?

Completion of the proposed merger is subject to various conditions to closing, and you should review the proxy statement once it has been filed for a more complete description of the terms of the merger agreement. Among the various closing conditions are: 1) regulatory approvals and clearances; and 2) the affirmative vote of Lattice stockholders holding a majority (50% + 1) of Lattice common stock.

We and Canyon Bridge are working to obtain all required regulatory approvals and clearances and believe that we should be in position to close the transaction in early 2017.

We believe that the 30% premium versus the closing price of the Company's common stock on the last trading day prior to the date the proposed transaction was announced shows that the transaction provides significant benefits to our stockholders.

What does Lattice's board and executive leadership team think of the transaction?

Our board of directors unanimously approved this transaction and believes that the transaction is in the best interests of Lattice and its stockholders and that the transaction also reduces our execution risk.

Our executive leadership team is also very supportive of the transaction as they believe the transaction will allow us to enhance our focus on long-term innovation and growth.

We have also communicated to customers that we are fully committed to ensuring that the transaction is seamless from our customers' point of view, with no interruptions in service or support.

What happens if the deal does not close?

This transaction was unanimously approved by Lattice's board of directors and we expect the transaction to close in early 2017.

If the transaction were not to close, we would continue to pursue the path we are laying out in our SLRP and PLBP.

In addition, Lattice would be required to pay a termination fee of $34,180,000 if the transaction were to be terminated under specified circumstances, and Lattice would receive a reverse termination fee of $58,750,000 if the transaction were to be terminated under different specified circumstances. You should review the proxy statement once it has been filed for a more complete description of the terms of the merger agreement, including the circumstances under which a termination fee could be paid or a reverse termination fee could be received.

CANYON BRIDGE

Is Canyon Bridge a new company or has it been around for a while?

Canyon Bridge is a recently established U.S.-based private-equity buyout fund, and its co-founders, Ben Chow and Ray Bingham, collectively have more than 50 years of experience in the technology, private equity and M&A markets.

Who are Canyon Bridge's limited partners?

Currently, Canyon Bridge has one limited partner, a wholly owned subsidiary of China Venture Capital Fund Corporation Limited, a large Chinese investment fund.

Canyon Bridge has an equity commitment in place from its limited partners which should provide the necessary funds to consummate the transaction.

What is Canyon Bridge's strategy and portfolio plan?

Canyon Bridge is focused on providing strategic capital to enable technology companies to reach their full growth potential. They combine deep knowledge of the global technology industry with experience in the financial markets to provide world-class investment expertise in creating and maximizing value for their investors.

Canyon Bridge seeks to invest in companies with strong platforms led by experienced management teams. Their investment philosophy is to work closely with company executives to implement best business practices and seek growth through a global market perspective, including making additional investments and accretive acquisitions.

How many companies does Canyon Bridge have in their portfolio?

While Canyon Bridge's partners are highly experienced, Lattice will be Canyon Bridge's first portfolio company.

UNTIL THE CLOSE

Are there any changes to the current no-hire policy for replacement of attrition?

There are 40 positions open on our website today, including requisitions for attrition replacements. We will hire replacements as they align with our PLBP.

Will this impact AOP, budgets, and spending targets?

We are proceeding with aligning our AOP and PLBP. After the transaction there may be changes as Canyon Bridge makes investments in us.

Are we now changing our roadmap or direction?

We are continuing to develop and finalize a course based on PLBP.

AFTER THE CLOSE

What happens to ESPP plan participants?

If the transaction closes before the ESPP purchase date of December 31, 2016, then the current offering period will end at least five days prior to the closing date and each participant's contributions through the new end date will be used to purchase shares of the Company's stock under the ESPP. Current participants in the ESPP may not increase their contributions for the current offering period and no new participants may join the current offering period.

If the transaction closes after the ESPP purchase date of December 31, 2016, then participants in the offering period will be issued stock on January 2, 2017 per the normal process and the ESPP. The required six month holding period for ESPP shares is still in operation during this period between when the stock is issued and the transaction closes.

No new offering period will commence after December 31, 2016.

What happens to the current Lattice board of directors?

Upon completion of the merger, the current Lattice board members will be replaced by board members designated by Canyon Bridge.

Will our company name change?

We do not anticipate that the Lattice Semiconductor name will change in the near term. Our product direction, while becoming more focused, is not materially changing and it would be costly in both time and money to change our name.

How will employees know how we are doing financially once we are private?

We intend to continue our current pattern of communication, including quarterly comm sessions with management that include a discussion of how we are doing versus our financial and other goals.

Are we a Chinese company now?

No. After the transaction closes we will still be a U.S. company headquartered in Portland, OR and will be a subsidiary of a U.S.-based private equity fund.

Will there be any changes to Data Loss Prevention, export control or restrictions on who we ship to?

At this time, we are not anticipating any changes to our existing controls and processes.

The last FAQ mentioned that Canyon Bridge will provide comparable benefits for one year after closing. What happens after one year?

Regardless if we are private or public company, it is premature to speculate on what will happen to compensation in a year.
