Notice to the Market

Banco Bradesco S.A., referring to the news published on this date in the newspaper "Valor Econômico", announces to its shareholders and to the market in general that until now the Company has not become aware, officially, of any new facts concerning the so called "Operação Zelotes".

In any case, Bradesco reiterates its previous statements to the effect that it has not carried out any proposal, contract or payment to anyone for any kind of advantage with the Board of Tax Appeals "CARF".

The Company also reports that the tax proceeding with CARF, which is being investigated, is already under the legal aid of renowned tax lawyers and was unanimously tried in disfavor of Bradesco, and is currently under the Judiciary.

Bradesco reaffirms its high standards of ethical conduct and its confidence in the full functioning of the Justice, further clarifying that any additional facts related to the subject will be immediately announced to the market.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This press release may contain forward-looking statements. These statements are statements that are not historical facts, and are based on management's current view and estimates of future economic circumstances, industry conditions, company performance and financial results. The words "anticipates", "believes", "estimates", "expects", "plans" and similar expressions, as they relate to the company, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Statements regarding the declaration or payment of dividends, the implementation of principal operating and financing strategies and capital expenditure plans, the direction of future operations and the factors or trends affecting financial condition, liquidity or results of operations are examples of forward-looking statements. Such statements reflect the current views of management and are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties. There is no guarantee that the expected events, trends or results will actually occur. The statements are based on many assumptions and factors, including general economic and market conditions, industry conditions, and operating factors. Any changes in such assumptions or factors could cause actual results to differ materially from current expectations.
