Item 8.01 Other Events.

As previously disclosed in the Company's filings, on January 4, 2011 the Company received notice from the Staff (the "Staff") of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") of the initiation of an inquiry into the Company's policies and practices concerning impairment of investment in real estate assets. On July 1, 2011, the Company disclosed that it had received notice from the Staff that the Staff had issued a related order of private investigation. On January 20, 2015, the Company received a written "Wells Notice" from the Staff indicating the Staff's preliminary determination to recommend that the Commission file an action against the Company for violations of certain federal securities laws. The Staff has informed the Company that the Wells Notice relates to historical accounting and disclosure practices and real estate asset valuations principally as reflected in the Company's financial results for 2010, 2009 and prior periods. All allegations relate to actions taken prior to the 2011 replacement of the Company's Board of Directors, the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer. The Wells Notice allegations involve former employees and one current non-executive officer and the Wells Notice is not directed towards any of the Company's current or recently retired directors or executive officers or any of its controlling shareholders.

A Wells Notice is neither a formal allegation of wrongdoing nor a finding that any violations of law have occurred. Rather, it provides the Company with an opportunity to respond to issues raised by the Staff and offer its perspective prior to any Commission decision to institute proceedings. If the Staff makes a recommendation to the Commission, the recommendations may involve a civil injunctive action, public administrative proceeding, and/or cease-and-desist proceeding, and may seek remedies that include an injunction and/or cease and desist order, disgorgement, pre-judgment interest, and civil money penalties. At this time the Company is unable to predict the outcome of the investigation, any potential enforcement actions or any other impact on the Company that may arise as a result of such investigation.
