News Release / Presseinformation

Qimonda commences insolvency proceedings

Neubiberg, Germany, January 23, 2009 Qimonda AG today filed for insolvency at the Munich Local Court. Infineon Technologies AG currently holds a 77.5 percent equity interest in Qimonda.

In December last year, Infineon, the German state of Saxony and Portugal agreed in principle on a rescue package designed to bail out Qimonda. According to this package, Saxony would make available 150 million euros, Portugal 100 million euros and Infineon 75 million euros in the form of a loan to the memory chip manufacturer.

Given the difficult overall economic situation and the further deterioration of the DRAM business in the December quarter, the negotiating parties have been unable to agree on how to put together a rescue package that would work for everyone involved. All parties' individual positions are understandable from their respective standpoints, but they have ultimately proven irreconcilable.

Following Qimonda's insolvency filing, Infineon may be exposed to a number of significant liabilities relating to the Qimonda business, including pending antitrust and securities law claims, potential claims for repayment of governmental subsidies received, and employee-related contingencies. We anticipate that the majority of any potential cash obligations we may have in connection with these matters would be payable, if at all, in periods after our 2009 financial year.

We intend to increase provisions in our quarterly accounts for the first quarter of fiscal 2009 for pending antitrust and securities law claims, and we anticipate creating additional provisions in connection with those potential liabilities related to Qimonda's business which to us seem probable and which we can quantify at this time. We anticipate that these reserves will be in the lower three-digit million euro range.

insolvency proceedings and the liabilities we may face as a result of Qimonda's insolvency. These forward-looking statements are subject to a number of uncertainties, including actions by Qimonda and its creditors and other interested parties and developments in our own business, as well as the other factors described in the Risk Factors section of the annual report of Infineon on Form 20-F filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on December 29, 2008. As a result, future developments could differ materially from those indicated in the forward-looking statements. Infineon does not intend or assume any obligation to update or revise these forward-looking statements in light of developments which differ from those anticipated.
