Part III Narrative

State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

Astrotech Corporation (the Company) could not, without unreasonable effort and expense, file its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013 (the Annual Report), within the prescribed time period. On June 30, 2013, the Company was in compliance with all of the covenants in its Loan Agreement, dated as of October 21, 2010, between the Company, Astrotech Space Operations, Inc. and Astrotech Florida Holdings, Inc., as Borrowers, and American Bank, N.A., as the Lender (the Loan Agreement). The Company is required to provide a forward looking forecast to the lender and it is uncertain whether the Company will be able to remain in compliance with the covenants in its Loan Agreement. Management is diligently working with the lender to obtain a waiver; however the Company cannot assure that it will be successful. Any non-compliance with the covenants in the Loan Agreement would place the Company's debt in technical default and require a reclassification of the debt from long-term to short term at June 30, 2013; therefore causing the Company's short term liabilities to be greater than its short term assets.

The Company expects to file its Annual Report as soon as practicable, and in no event later than the fifteenth calendar day following the prescribed due date.

Have all other periodic reports required under Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or Section 30 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 during the preceding 12 months or for such shorter period that the registrant was required to file such report(s) been filed? If the answer is no, identify report(s).

Yes No

Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?

Yes No

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

In the event that the Company is unable to obtain a waiver from the lender, the Company expects to reclassify all long-term debt for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013 as current debt, such that the current debt reported for 2013 is expected to be approximately $6.0 million, as compared to current debt of $372,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2012.

This Form 12b-25 contains forward-looking statements as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Additional written and oral forward-looking statements may be made by us from time to time in Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) filings and otherwise. The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides a safe-harbor for forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements include statements that are predictive in nature and depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, and include, but are not limited to, information regarding the status and progress of our operating activities, the plans and objectives of our management and assumptions regarding our future performance, operating expenses, working capital needs, liquidity and capital requirements, business trends and competitiveness. Forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, words such as believe, plan, anticipate, estimate, project, may, planned, potential, should, will, would, contemplate, continue, expect, intend, seek or the negative of or other variations on these and other expressions. In addition, any statements concerning future financial performance, ongoing business strategies or prospects, and possible future actions, are also forward-looking statements. We caution readers that results predicted by forward-looking statements, including, without limitation, those relating to our future business prospects, revenues, working capital, liquidity, capital needs, interest costs and income are subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those indicated in the forward-looking statements. Such material risks and uncertainties are set forth in the Company's most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K, and any subsequent Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, each as filed with the SEC. You should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which reflect the Company's opinions only as of the date of this Form 12b-25. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly release any revisions to the forward-looking statements after the date of this Form 12b-25.
