Item 8.01. Other Events.

On Zayo Group Holdings, Inc. fiscal second quarter 2019 earnings call, management made several statements concerning the tactics around the company's previously announced plan to split into two public companies. For clarity, management has issued the following statement:

The Unleash plan we announced in November was designed to increase focus on the infrastructure, or Network, segment, simplify operations, and separate certain higher level services and customers into a separate entity, along with the Allstream segment. While the tenets of this plan remain intact, we no longer believe it is in shareholders' best interests for the separation to include a public spin.
