Part III

Narrative

CSP Inc. was unable, without unreasonable effort or expense, to file its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended September 30, 2011 (the "Annual Report") by the December 29, 2011 filing date due to a delay we experienced in completing our financial statements and other related disclosures in the Annual Report. As a result, our independent auditors have not completed their audit of our financial statements for the year ended September 30, 2011. The delay relates to a change in our accounting policy for revenue recognition with respect to certain third party service contracts, which we determined should be recorded on a "net sales" basis in accordance with the sales recognition criteria as required by U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. We have determined that we are simply acting as an agent or broker with respect to this portion of our revenues. Under net sales recognition, the cost to the third-party service provider or vendor is recorded as a reduction to sales resulting in net sales equal to the gross profit on the transaction. Accordingly, there are no costs of goods sold. This change does not affect net income. We previously used the "gross sales" recognition method for the third party service contracts that we sell. We need additional time to evaluate the effects of this change in our accounting policy. We anticipate that we will file the Annual Report no later than the fifteenth calendar day following the prescribed filing date.

We expect to report a significant reduction in sales and cost of sales for the year ended September 30, 2011, due to the change in accounting policy for revenue recognition for certain third party maintenance contracts which are now being recorded on a "net sales" basis. There was no change in the net income for the year.
