Statements in this report contain various forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, which represent the Company's expectations or beliefs concerning future events. When used in this document, the words "expects", "plans," "anticipates," "indicates," "believes," "forecast," "guidance," "outlook", "may," "will," "should" and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include, without limitation, the Company's expectations concerning operations and financial conditions, including changes in capacity, revenues and costs; future financing plans and needs; overall economic and industry conditions; plans and objectives for future operations; and the impact on the Company of its results of operations in recent years and the sufficiency of its financial resources to absorb that impact. Other forward-looking statements include statements which do not relate solely to historical facts, such as, without limitation, statements which discuss the possible future effects of current known trends or uncertainties, or which indicate that the future effects of known trends or uncertainties cannot be predicted, guaranteed or assured. All forward-looking statements in this report are based on information available to the Company on the date of this report. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise. This document includes forecasts of unit cost and revenue performance, fuel prices and fuel hedging, capacity and traffic estimates, other income/expense estimates, share count, and statements regarding the Company's liquidity, each of which is a forward-looking statement. Forward-looking statements are subject to a number of factors that could cause the Company's actual results to differ materially from the Company's expectations. The following factors, in addition to other possible factors not listed, could cause the Company's actual results to differ materially from those expressed in forward-looking statements: the materially weakened financial condition of the Company, resulting from its significant losses in recent years; the ability of the Company to generate additional revenues and significantly reduce its costs; changes in economic and other conditions beyond the Company's control, and the volatile results of the Company's operations; the Company's substantial indebtedness and other obligations; the ability of the Company to satisfy existing financial or other covenants in certain of its credit agreements; continued high fuel prices and further increases in the price of fuel, and the availability of fuel; the fiercely competitive business environment faced by the Company, and historically low fare levels; competition with reorganized and reorganizing carriers; the Company's reduced pricing power; the Company's likely need to raise additional funds and its ability to do so on acceptable terms; changes in the Company's business strategy; government regulation of the Company's business; conflicts overseas or terrorist attacks; uncertainties with respect to the Company's international operations; outbreaks of a disease (such as SARS or avian flu) that affects travel behavior; uncertainties with respect to the Company's relationships with unionized and other employee work groups; increased insurance costs and potential reductions of available insurance coverage; the Company's ability to retain key management personnel; potential failures or disruptions of the Company's computer, communications or other technology systems; changes in the price of the Company's common stock; and the ability of the Company to reach acceptable agreements with third parties. Additional information concerning these and other factors is contained in the Company's Securities and Exchange Commission filings, including but not limited to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006.

This Eagle Eye provides updated guidance for the first quarter and the full year 2007.

Performance Update

Costs: Unit cost forecasts are attached.

Revenue: First quarter mainline passenger unit revenue is expected to increase between 3.5% and 4.5% year over year. First quarter consolidated passenger unit revenue is expected to increase between 2.7% and 3.7% year over year. In the Other Revenue category, year over year improvements are expected to continue to moderate as prior year comparables become more difficult.

Liquidity: We expect to end the first quarter with a cash and short-term investment balance of approximately $6 billion, including nearly $500 million in restricted cash and short-term investments.

	Jan	Feb	Mar	1Q07	2007
AA Cost per ASM 1/	10.87	11.20	10.70	10.91	10.90
AA Cost per ASM (ex-fuel) 2/	7.85	8.23	7.63	7.89	7.67

Note: The increase in ex-fuel CASM versus prior guidance is mostly attributable to reduced capacity associated with weather related cancellations January 1 through March 18. During this period, American Airlines cancelled 2.5 percent of 1Q07's expected departures due to weather.

American Airlines has an Annual Incentive Plan (AIP) and Profit Sharing Program that provide variable compensation that rewards frontline employees when American Airlines achieves certain financial and customer service targets.

AIP has two components:

1. Customer Service pays out to eligible employees on a quarterly basis up to $1,200 per employee per year when American Airlines performs well in the monthly customer service measures in Survey America and in the A + 14 Dependability statistics tracked by the Department of Transportation. Since 2004, the Company has paid out more than $46 million in AIP Customer Service payments to employees.
2. Financial payments are based on the Company's financial results. This pays out 2.5 percent of wages when American Airlines records a 5 percent annual pre-tax margin. If the pre-tax margin reaches 10 percent, these annual awards rise to 5 percent of wages. And, if the pre-tax margin reaches 15 percent, these annual awards pay out 10 percent of wages.

Profit Sharing pays cash awards to all eligible employees when American Airlines exceeds $500 million in pre-tax earnings. Generally, the profit sharing plan provides for a profit sharing pool for eligible employees equal to 15 percent of pre-tax income of American Airlines in excess of $500 million.

Based on current conditions, the Company's most recently prepared internal forecast for the full year 2007 contains an accrual for profit sharing. There can be no assurance that the Company's forecast will approximate actual results. Additionally, reductions in forecasted pre-tax earnings from a previous quarter could result in the reversal of a portion or all of the previously recorded profit sharing expense.

For more information regarding these plans, please see the Company's 2006 Form 10-K.
