PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE PUBLICATION

CGI REGROUPS BUSINESS PROCESS SERVICES TO EXTEND OFFERING ALSO ANNOUNCES ORGANIZATIONAL ADJUSTMENTS TO SUPPORT FUTURE GROWTH

MONTREAL, JULY 27, 2001 - CGI Group Inc. (NYSE: GIB; TSE: GIB.A) (CGI) today announced the creation of a Business Process Services (BPS) unit by formally concentrating its expertise to focus on serving this high growth area. This initiative stemmed from growing client demand for increased outsourcing services coupled with an opportunity to capitalize on CGI's strong North American presence.

Business Process Services encompasses the outsourced processing of a company's business processing functions and is a logical extension of CGI's full IT outsourcing offering. Outsourced business processing is one of the most rapidly growing areas as companies are concentrating on core business activities while teaming up with BPS outsourcers in order to capitalise upon cost savings generated by economies of scale and the sophisticated execution of operations.

Gartner Group estimates that in 2000 the market for outsourced business processing was US$244 billion, and at compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 19.7%, is expected to be a US$600 billion worldwide market by 2005. Of this market opportunity, outsourced operational and business administration processes represents US$461.5 billion, or more than half. CGI will primarily be pursuing industry-focused value add BPS in these areas, a natural fit based on the company's deep industry expertise and work with industry specific processes and applications.

CGI has been providing BPS to its clients for many years and current revenues represent approximately CDN$200 million. Now, all capabilities will be offered through one entity. As part of CGI's commitment to this initiative, Joseph Saliba, formerly president of the outsourcing division of SABRE in Dallas, will head this new BPS unit. "Our goal is to understand our client's business functions and processes to assess how they can be enhanced, ultimately having direct impact on their bottom line," said Joseph Saliba, president, Business Process Services, CGI. "It means taking a deeper pulse of day-to-day functions - the basic infrastructure of running a company."

PRESS RELEASE - PAGE 2

Serge Godin, chairman, president and CEO of CGI said: "Our clients will greatly benefit from this extended support that gives them a stronger return on their technology investment. Business Process Services is a logical extension of our service offering, as CGI already owns the intellectual property for highly sophisticated software applications and infrastructure. We see this initiative as a substantial driver of growth in North America as we proactively seek to optimize our client's value chain."

CGI also announced, in light of today's closing of the IMRglobal merger, some organizational adjustments to better reflect its evolving operations and focus on high growth segments of the IT industry. As part of this new structure, CGI's operations will be managed by three presidents, namely Michael Roach, president Canada and Europe, Satish Sanan, president USA and Asia Pacific and Joseph Saliba, president, Business Process Services. All CGI global and corporate functions will remain the same.
