Barrier Securities Based on the Worst Performing of the S&P 500® Index and the Russell Rule 433 2000® Index Due March-----, 2023

Overview. The securities are unsecured senior debt securities issued by Citigroup Global Markets Holdings Inc. and guaranteed by Citigroup Inc. Unlike conventional debt securities, the securities do not pay interest and do not repay a fixed amount of principal at maturity. Instead, the securities offer a payment at maturity that may be greater than, equal to or less than the stated principal amount, depending on the performance of the worst performing of the S&P 500® Index and the Russell 2000® Index (each, an “underlying index”).

The securities offer modified exposure to the performance of the worst performing underlying index, with (i) the opportunity to participate on a leveraged basis in a limited range of potential appreciation of the worst performing underlying index and (ii) contingent repayment of the stated principal amount at maturity if the worst performing underlying index depreciates, but only so long as that depreciation does not exceed 40.00%. In exchange, investors in the securities must be willing to accept a return based on whichever underlying index is the worst performing underlying index, forgo any appreciation of the worst performing underlying index in excess of the maximum return at maturity specified below, and forgo any dividends that may be paid on the stocks that constitute the underlying indices over the term of the securities. In addition, investors in the securities must be willing to accept full downside exposure to the worst performing underlying index if the worst performing underlying index depreciates by more than 40.00%. If the worst performing underlying index depreciates by more than 40.00% from its initial index level to its final index level, you will lose 1% of the stated principal amount of your securities for every 1% by which the worst performing underlying index has declined from its initial index level. There is no minimum payment at maturity.

Your return on the securities will depend solely on the performance of the worst performing underlying index. You will not benefit in any way from the performance of the better performing underlying index. You may incur a significant loss if either underlying index performs poorly, even if the other performs favorably.

All payments on the securities are subject to the credit risk of Citigroup Global Markets Holdings Inc. and Citigroup Inc. The securities will not be listed on any securities exchange and may have limited or no liquidity.
