The SEC allows SunGard to "incorporate by reference" the information SunGard files with them, which means that SunGard can disclose important information to you by referencing you to those documents. The information incorporated by reference is considered to be part of this prospectus, and later information that SunGard files with the SEC will automatically update and supersede this information. SunGard incorporates by reference the documents listed below and any future filings SunGard makes with the SEC under Sections 13(a), 13(c), 14, or 15(d) of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 until the selling stockholders sell all of the shares or until May 31, 2003, whichever is earlier.

Forward-Looking Statements

This prospectus and other SunGard communications contain forward-looking statements that are subject to risks and uncertainties and that may change at any time and differ from actual results. Forward-looking statements include information about possible or assumed future financial results of SunGard and usually contain words such as "believes," "intends," "expects," "anticipates" or similar expressions. SunGard derives most of its forward-looking statements from its operating budgets and forecasts, which are based upon many detailed assumptions. While SunGard believes that its assumptions are reasonable, it cautions that there are inherent difficulties in predicting certain important factors such as:

- . the timing and magnitude of software sales;
- . the effect of general economic and market issues on software and services buying decisions;
- . the timing and scope of technological advances;
- . the integration and performance of acquired businesses;
- . the prospects for future acquisitions;
- . the ability to attract and retain key personnel; and
- . the overall condition of the financial services industry.

Edgar Filing: SUNGARD DATA SYSTEMS INC - Form POS AM

Certain of these factors are further discussed below. These factors, as and when applicable, and those discussed below should be considered in evaluating SunGard's forward-looking statements and any investment in SunGard's common stock.

Risk Factors

You should carefully consider the risks described below before making any investment decision. The risks and uncertainties described below are not the only ones facing SunGard. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to SunGard or that SunGard currently deems immaterial may also impair SunGard's business operations. If any of the following risks actually occur, SunGard's business, financial condition or results of future operations could be materially adversely affected. In such case, the trading price of SunGard's common stock could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment.

SunGard's growth strategy depends in part on acquisitions. If SunGard is unable to acquire businesses on favorable terms or successfully integrate and manage the businesses acquired, SunGard's business and financial results may suffer.

SunGard intends to grow by expanding its existing businesses and by acquiring similar or complementary businesses. This growth strategy is subject to a number of risks that could adversely affect SunGard's business and financial results, including:

- . SunGard may not be able to find suitable businesses to acquire on affordable terms;
- . competition from other acquirors and stock market fluctuations may make it more difficult for SunGard to find and complete acquisitions;
- . SunGard may have to raise money in the debt or equity markets to finance future acquisitions; and
- . changes in accounting, tax, securities or other regulations may make it more difficult or costly for SunGard to continue to grow by acquiring similar or complementary businesses.

The businesses acquired by SunGard may perform worse than expected or may be more difficult to integrate and manage than expected. If that happens, SunGard's business and financial results may suffer for a number of reasons, including:

- . SunGard may have to devote unanticipated financial and management resources to the acquired businesses;
- . SunGard may not be able to realize expected operating efficiencies or product integration benefits; and
- . SunGard may have to write off goodwill or other intangible assets.

SunGard's success depends in part on adapting its computer services and software to changes in technology and changes in its clients' businesses. If SunGard does not successfully update its software and services, or if its new products or services are not timely delivered or well received by clients, SunGard's business and financial results may suffer.

Edgar Filing: SUNGARD DATA SYSTEMS INC - Form POS AM

SunGard's ability to successfully update its services and software and timely develop and deliver new products and services required by its clients is subject to a number of risks that could adversely affect SunGard's business and financial results, including:

- . SunGard may find it difficult to update its services and software and timely develop and deliver its new products and services in a cost-effective manner, especially when faced with rapid technological changes that are hard to predict;
- . SunGard may find it difficult to make its products work over the Internet or to integrate its products into straight-through processing solutions;
- . SunGard may find it difficult to update its services and software to keep pace with business, regulatory and other developments in the financial services industry in which most of SunGard's clients operate; and

- . new developments in patent law may make it more difficult or costly for SunGard to add or retain important features in its software and services.

SunGard's business is dependent largely on the financial services industry. If that industry does poorly, SunGard's business and financial results may suffer.

SunGard sells most of its computer services and software to banks, mutual funds, brokers, insurance companies and other financial services firms. If the financial services industry or SunGard's clients in the financial services industry experience problems, SunGard's business and financial results could be adversely affected. For example, SunGard may suffer if securities trading activity declines, the number or value of managed portfolios decreases, or there is continued consolidation among firms in the financial services industry.

SunGard's business is dependent on skilled personnel. If SunGard is unable to attract and retain skilled personnel, SunGard's business and financial results may suffer.

SunGard's future success depends on the continued service and availability of skilled personnel, particularly skilled technical, sales and management personnel. Experienced personnel in the information-technology industry are in high demand and competition for their talents is intense. There can be no assurance that SunGard will be able to successfully attract and retain the personnel that it needs. If SunGard is unable to successfully attract and retain skilled personnel, SunGard's ability to provide its products and services may be impeded. Even if SunGard is able to attract and retain the skilled personnel it needs, SunGard's recruitment and compensation expenses could grow faster than revenues, which could adversely affect SunGard's financial results.

Selling Stockholders

The following table provides certain information as of the date of this prospectus regarding each selling stockholder's ownership of SunGard common stock and as adjusted to give effect to the sale of the shares offered by this prospectus. All of the shares being offered by the selling stockholders were acquired by them as a result of SunGard's acquisition of Loanet Holdings, Inc.

Edgar Filing: SUNGARD DATA SYSTEMS INC - Form POS AM

on May 31, 2001. The shares are being registered to permit public secondary trading in the shares, and the selling stockholders may offer the shares for resale from time to time. See "Plan of Distribution."

All of the selling stockholders were directors, officers and stockholders of Loanet Holdings, Inc. prior to its acquisition by SunGard. Mr. Rappaport is President of SunGard Securities Finance Inc. (formerly known as Loanet Holdings, Inc.), a subsidiary of SunGard. The selling stockholders do not intend to retain any shares after the offering.

Plan of Distribution

The selling stockholders, or their pledgees, donees, transferees or other successors in interest, may sell the shares from time to time in one or more transactions on the New York Stock Exchange (which may involve block transactions), in special offerings, in negotiated transactions, or otherwise. Such sales may be made at market prices prevailing at the time of the sale, at prices related to such prevailing market prices, or at negotiated prices. In addition, any securities covered by this prospectus that qualify for sale pursuant to Rule 144 of the Securities Act of 1933 might be sold under the terms of such rule rather than pursuant to this prospectus.

The selling stockholders may use brokers or dealers to sell their shares. If this happens, such brokers or dealers may receive commissions or discounts from the selling stockholders in amounts negotiated immediately prior to the sale. Such brokers or dealers may be deemed to be "underwriters" within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933 in connection with such sales, and their commissions or discounts and other compensation may be deemed underwriters' compensation.

Because selling stockholders may be deemed to be "underwriters" within the meaning of Section 2(11) of the Securities Act, the selling stockholders will be subject to the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act, which may include delivery through the facilities of the New York Stock Exchange pursuant to Rule 153 under the Securities Act. We have informed the selling stockholders that the anti-manipulative provisions of Regulation M Promulgated under the Exchange Act may apply to their sales in the market. Selling stockholders also may resell all or a portion of the shares in open market transactions in reliance upon Rule 144 under the Securities Act, provided they meet the criteria and conform to the requirements of such Rule.

The selling stockholders may enter into hedging transactions with broker-dealers or other financial institutions. In connection with such transactions, broker-dealers or other financial institutions may engage in short sales of our common stock in the course of hedging the positions they assume with selling stockholders. The selling stockholders may also enter into options or other transactions with broker-dealers or other financial institutions which require the delivery to such broker-dealer or other financial institution of the shares offered hereby, which shares such broker-dealer or other financial institution may resell pursuant to this Prospectus (as supplemented or amended to reflect such transaction).

If a selling stockholder notifies SunGard of any other material arrangement that it has entered into with a broker or dealer for selling shares through a block trade, special offering, exchange distribution or secondary distribution or a purchase by a broker or dealer, SunGard will file a supplemented prospectus, if required, pursuant to Rule 424(c) under the Securities Act of 1933. In that supplemented prospectus, SunGard will disclose:

- . the name of each such broker-dealer;
- . the number of shares involved;
- . the price at which such shares were sold;
- . the commissions paid or discounts or concessions allowed to such broker-dealer(s), where applicable;
- . that such broker-dealer(s) did not conduct any investigation to verify the information set out or incorporated by reference in this prospectus, as supplemented; and
- . any other facts material to the transaction.

This registration statement will remain effective until the earlier of (i) the date on which all of the shares included in the registration statement have been distributed to the public, (ii) the date on which all of the shares included in the registration statement may be transferred in a three-month period under Rule 144 or (iii) May 31, 2003.

SunGard will pay its own legal and accounting fees, all registration and filing fees attributable to the registration of the shares, all legal fees and filing fees relating to state securities or "blue sky" filings, the filing fee payable to the New York Stock Exchange and all printing fees incurred in connection herewith. Each selling stockholder will pay his, her or its own legal and accounting fees and any other expenses incurred by the selling stockholder. Any commissions, discounts or other fees payable to broker-dealers in connection with any sale of the shares will be borne by the selling stockholder selling such shares.

SunGard has agreed to indemnify the selling stockholders in certain circumstances, against certain liabilities, including liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933. Each selling stockholder has agreed to indemnify SunGard, its directors, and its officers who sign the registration statement against certain liabilities, including liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933.

PART II

Information Not Required in Prospectus

Item 14. Other Expenses of Issuance and Distribution

The following table shows the estimated expenses of the issuance and distribution of the securities offered hereby.

SEC registration fee paid by the Company.....	$62,000
Legal fees and expenses.....	5,000
Accounting fees and expenses.....	5,000
Miscellaneous.....	1,000
Total.....	$73,000

Item 15. Indemnification of Directors and Officers

Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "Delaware Law") authorizes a court to award, or a corporation's board of directors to grant, indemnity to directors and officers in terms sufficiently broad to permit such indemnification under certain circumstances for liabilities (including reimbursement for expenses incurred) arising under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). SunGard's Certificate of Incorporation, as amended, and Bylaws provide for indemnification of SunGard's officers and directors to the maximum extent permitted by Delaware Law.

SunGard has also entered into indemnification agreements with its directors and officers providing for indemnification to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware Law and, in certain respects, the indemnification agreements provide greater protection than that specifically provided for by Delaware Law. The indemnification agreements do not provide indemnification for, among other things, conduct which is found to be knowingly fraudulent or deliberately dishonest, or for willful misconduct.

SunGard has obtained directors' and officers' liability insurance for the benefit of SunGard and its stockholders in the amount of $100 million.

Item 17. Undertakings.

(a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:
