EXPLANATORY NOTE

MoneyGram International, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the Company), is filing this Form 8-A in connection with its listing of shares of its common stock, $0.01 par value, pursuant to Section 12(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, on the NASDAQ Global Select Market commencing on May 13, 2013. The Company is voluntarily delisting the common stock from the New York Stock Exchange as of the close of business on May 10, 2013.

Item 1. Description of Registrant's Securities to be Registered

This section summarizes the general terms of the Company's common stock. The following description is only a summary and does not purport to be complete and is qualified by reference to the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended (the certificate of incorporation), and bylaws. The certificate of incorporation and bylaws have been incorporated by reference as exhibits to this registration statement.

General

The certificate of incorporation currently authorizes the issuance of two classes of shares:

common stock, par value $0.01 per share (162,500,000 shares authorized), and preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share (7,000,000 shares authorized).

As of May 1, 2013, there were 57,905,399 shares of common stock outstanding.

The Company's board of directors is authorized to provide for the issue, from time to time, of preferred stock in series and, as to each series, to establish the number of shares to be included in each such series and to fix the designation, powers, preferences and rights of those shares and the qualifications, limitations and restrictions of those shares. As a result, the board of directors could, without stockholder approval, authorize the issuance of preferred stock with dividend, redemption or conversion provisions that could have an adverse effect on the availability of earnings for distribution to the holders of common stock, or with voting, conversion or other rights that could proportionately reduce, minimize or otherwise adversely affect the voting power and other rights of holders of common stock.

The Company's common stock is not entitled to any conversion or redemption rights. Holders of common stock do not have any preemptive right or other subscription rights to subscribe for additional securities the Company may issue. The Company's outstanding common stock is, and any newly issued common stock will be, fully paid and non-assessable. The transfer agent and registrar for the Company's common stock is Wells Fargo Shareowner Services.

Dividend Rights

Subject to the prior dividend rights of the holders of any preferred stock and the other limitations set forth in the following paragraph, dividends may be declared by the Company's board of directors and paid from time to time on outstanding shares of common stock from any funds legally available therefor.

The Company and its subsidiaries are parties to agreements pursuant to which they borrow money, and certain covenants in these agreements limit the Company's ability to pay dividends or other distributions with respect to common stock or to repurchase common stock. In addition, the Company and its subsidiaries may become parties to future agreements that contain such restrictions.

Voting Rights

The holders of common stock have voting rights and are entitled to one vote for each share held. There are no cumulative voting rights.

Liquidation Rights

Upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company, the holders of the Company's common stock shall be entitled to share in the Company's assets remaining after the payment of liabilities and the satisfaction of any liquidation preference granted to the holders of any outstanding shares of preferred stock.

Certain Provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws

Some provisions of the certificate of incorporation and bylaws could make the acquisition of control of the Company and/or the removal of existing management more difficult, including those that provide as follows:

subject to the rights of holders of any series or class of stock as set forth in the certificate of incorporation, the Company's board of directors fixes the size of the board of directors within certain limits, may create new directorships and may appoint new directors to serve until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until such director's successor shall have been duly elected and qualified. The board of directors (or its remaining members, even though less than a quorum) also may fill vacancies on the board of directors occurring for any reason for a term expiring at the next annual meeting of stockholders and until such director's successor shall have been duly elected and qualified;

the Company's board of directors may issue preferred stock without any vote or further action by the stockholders;

subject to the rights of holders of any series or class of stock as set forth in the certificate of incorporation, special meetings of stockholders may be called only by the chairman or board of directors, and not by stockholders;

the Company's board of directors may adopt, amend, alter or repeal the bylaws without a vote of the stockholders;

subject to the rights of holders of any series or class of stock as set forth in the certificate of incorporation, all stockholder actions must be taken at a regular or special meeting of the stockholders and cannot be taken by written consent without a meeting;

the Company has advance notice procedures with respect to stockholder proposals and the nomination of candidates for election as directors, which generally require that stockholder proposals and nominations be provided to the Company between 90 and 120 days before the anniversary of the last annual meeting in order to be properly brought before a stockholder meeting; and certain business combinations with an interested stockholder (defined in the certificate of incorporation as a holder of 10% or more of the Company's outstanding voting stock) must be approved by holders of 66 $\frac{2}{3}$ % of the voting power of shares not owned by the interested stockholder, unless the business combination is approved by certain continuing directors (as defined in the certificate of incorporation) or meets certain requirements regarding price and procedure.

These provisions are expected to discourage coercive takeover practices and inadequate takeover bids. They are also designed to encourage persons seeking to acquire control of the Company to first negotiate with the Company's board of directors. The Company believes that the benefits of increased protection gives the potential ability to negotiate with the proponent of an unfriendly or unsolicited proposal to acquire or restructure the Company and that these benefits outweigh the disadvantages of discouraging the proposals. Negotiating with the proponent could result in an improvement of the terms of the proposal.

Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law

Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law regulates corporate acquisitions. In general, Section 203 prohibits a publicly held Delaware corporation from engaging in a business combination with an interested stockholder for a period of three years following the date the person became an interested stockholder, unless:

the board of directors approved the transaction in which the stockholder became an interested stockholder prior to the date the interested stockholder attained such status;

upon consummation of the transaction that resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, the stockholder owned at least 85% of the voting stock of the corporation outstanding at the time the transaction commenced, excluding shares owned by persons who are directors or officers and shares held by certain employee stock plans; and the business combination is approved by the board of directors and by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock that is not owned by the interested stockholder at a stockholder meeting, and not by written consent.

However, this business combination prohibition may be negated by certain actions, including pursuant to the following:

if the Company, with the support of a majority of the continuing directors, proposes at any time another merger or sale or does not oppose another tender offer for at least 50% of the Company's shares, the interested stockholder is released from the three-year prohibition and free to compete with that other transaction;

the Company's stockholders may choose to amend the certificate of incorporation to opt out of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law at any time by a vote of at least a majority of the Company's outstanding voting power, provided that, the amendment to opt out of Section 203 will not be effective until 12 months after the adoption of such amendment.

Under Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, a business combination generally includes a merger, asset or stock sale, loan, substantial issuance of stock, plan of liquidation, reincorporation or other transaction resulting in a financial benefit to the interested stockholder. In general, an interested stockholder is a person who, together with affiliates and associates, owns, or within three years prior to the determination of interested stockholder status, did own, 15% or more of a corporation's voting stock.
