GOODLACE TO LEAVE GOLD FIELDS

Johannesburg, July 30, 2008: Gold Fields Limited Limited (“Gold Fields”) (NYSE, JSE, DIFX: GFI) regrets to announce that Terence Goodlace has informed the Board of his resignation as Chief Operating Officer and an executive director of the Company, effective September 30, 2008.

Goodlace said: “My resignation was prompted entirely by very private and personal considerations. I regret that I will not be with Gold Fields to share in its recovery over the next few quarters, but I will be leaving with the knowledge that the building blocks for success are in place, and that Gold Fields has the depth in executive and operational leadership required to execute its strategy.”

Alan Wright, Chairman of Gold Fields said: “In the light of his personal circumstances I have reluctantly accepted Terence’s resignation. He will leave Gold Fields with our blessings and our deep respect and gratitude for the many and varied contributions that he has made to the Group.”

Nick Holland, Chief Executive Officer said, “Terence has been a key member of the Gold Fields leadership team since its inception in 1998 and has served the company with distinction in various executive positions over this period. He will be remembered for his deep understanding of all facets of mining and, in particular, for the seminal role that he played in re-defining Gold Fields' approach to the safety of its people in the work place. He will leave behind many friends.”

Terence's current position of Chief Operating Officer will be split into two roles, with Vishnu Pillay, currently the Head of South African operations, continuing in that role as Executive Vice President of the South African operations, and Glenn Baldwin, currently Head of Australian and West African operations, assuming the role of Executive Vice President for all international operations. Both Vishnu and Glenn will report to Nick Holland and join the Group General Executive Committee. The change in the reporting structure will become effective on October 1, 2008.
