The statistics marked * comprise newly acquired power plants of the Company that were included in the Note: consolidated financial statements in early August 2018. The comparison figures thereof are solely for reference purposes.

The increase in the Company's power generation for the year was mainly attributable to the following reasons: (1) the growth of the national total electricity consumption was better than that anticipated at the beginning of the year, especially the electricity consumption by the tertiary industry and urban and rural residents maintained at a double-digit growth; (2) affected by factors such as increased demand and reduced water supply, the Company's thermal power utilization hours rebounded significantly; and (3) the new gas turbine, wind-power and photovoltaic units contributed to the growth of power generation.

For the year ended 31 December 2018, the accumulated power generation of Tuas Power Ltd., the Company's wholly owned subsidiary in Singapore, accounted for a market share of 21.1%, representing a decrease of 0.8 percentage point from the same period last year.

In respect of tariff, the Company's domestic average tariff for the year ended 31 December 2018 was RMB418.48 per MWh, increased by RMB4.47 per MWh from last year. SinoSing Power's average tariff for 2018 was RMB648.74 per MWh, representing an increase by 19.22% from last year.

In respect of fuel costs, due to the increase in fuel prices, the Company's fuel cost per unit of power sold by domestic power plants increased by 4.85% to RMB236.89 per MWh from last year.

Combining the forgoing factors, for the year ended 31 December 2018, the Company recorded an operating revenue of RMB169.551 billion, representing an increase of 11.21% from RMB152.459 billion of last year, and the net profit attributable to equity holders of the Company of RMB0.734 billion, representing a decrease of 53.51% from RMB1.580 billion of last year.

For the year ended 31 December 2018, the net profit attributable to equity holders of the Company from domestic operations was RMB1.429 billion, representing a decrease of RMB0.628 billion from RMB2.057 billion for the same period last year. The decrease was primarily attributable to rising fuel prices, increased financial costs and reduced investment income. The net loss attributable to equity holders of the Company from its operations in Singapore was RMB695 million, representing a loss increase of RMB218 million compared to the same period last year, which is principally attributable to Tuas Power's decreased profit by RMB320 million (about S$65 million) from the disposal of fuel oil and impairment provision for fuel oil.

2019 is expected to see the shift of China's economy from high-speed growth to high-quality development characterized by accelerated optimization and upgrading of economic structure. The Chinese government will be consistently committed to supply-side, market-oriented structural reform, build upon the achievements from the initiatives of reducing overcapacity and excess inventory, deleveraging, lowering costs and identifying the underdeveloped sectors for improvement to make reinforced efforts on infrastructure development and promote energy production and consumption revolution, with the view to creating a clean, low-carbon, safe and efficient energy system. As local governments and competent authorities will actively comply with the requirements for stable investment, fixed assets investment is expected to maintain steady growth, which will provide strong support for power consumption growth.

Regarding the electricity market, considering market environment at home and abroad, assuming no occurrence of far-reaching extreme climate changes in 2019, total electricity consumption nationwide will grow by 5.5%, with newly installed generation capacity of approximately 110 million kW, of which thermal generation units will represent a slight increased percentage from last year. In 2019, annual utilization hours of thermal generating units are estimated to be 4,400 hours, representing slight increase from last year. In 2019, the Company will actively participate in the reform of power market, strengthen research and study of power supply and demand and market competition, and design flexible and effective marketing strategies. The Company will also actively participate in power market transactions, attach importance to power sales business, actively participate in the building of electricity trading market and auxiliary service market, continuously explore new business opportunities, make focused efforts to offer value-added services so as to consolidate high-quality client base and improve client stickiness, with the view to gradually transitioning from traditional energy vendor to integrated energy supplier, further enhancing the Company's market competitiveness, and strengthening the Company's position in the industry and market.

In the coal market, coal supply is expected to be sufficient with increased production from operation of new and expansion coal production projects which have been approved by competent Chinese government agencies, while the effect of environmental protection and safety production inspections, though continuing to weigh upon coal production, will be lessened in 2019. In spite of coal demand from large-scale infrastructure and other projects, consumption of coal by thermal power generators is expected to decrease due to the soft macro-economic conditions, uncertainty of China-U.S. trade relations, industrial transformation and upgrading, as well as increased supply of UHV-based clean energy and nuclear power. The railway capacity continues to increase as the operation of Menghua Railway is expected to ease the resources shortage in “two lakes and one river”. The general supply and demand in the electricity and coal market in 2019 will be eased compared with the tight balance in 2018, with the price moving downward and volatility further reduced. The Coal prices will gradually move to the green range.

In terms of capital market, the Chinese government is expected to implement active fiscal policies and sound monetary policies. The fiscal policies would be focused on reducing taxes and other fiscal levies with the view to addressing, in collaboration with the implementation of monetary policies, funding difficulties and prohibitive funding prices encountered by business enterprises. The sound monetary policies would be implemented to underscore overall economic stability, strengthen counter-cyclical monetary administration, optimize credit structure, and maintain reasonably adequate liquidity. Accordingly, it is expected that the market would have reasonably sufficient funding in 2019 and funding costs are expected to be consistent with slight decline.

The Company would seize the important strategic opportunities arising from power market reform, redesigning of energy ecosystem, and cross-sector integration to accelerate transformation to quality and efficient development driven by innovation based on improved existing capacities and optimized added capacities. The Company will develop from a business mainly engaged in power generation to a provider of integrated services ranging from power and heating generation, peak adjustment, power distribution and sale, energy storage, energy conservation and environmental protection, as well as highly value-added solutions and services, so as to promote growth of higher quality, efficiency and sustainability.

E. PERFORMANCE OF SIGNIFICANT INVESTMENTS AND THEIR PROSPECTS

In 2011, Shenzhen Energy Group divided into a remainder company of the same name and a new company Shenzhen Energy Management Company (“SE Management”), and the Company holds 25% equity interests in each of the two successors. The Company acquired 200 million shares from Shenzhen Energy Corporation (“Shenzhen Energy”), a subsidiary of Shenzhen Energy Group in December 2007. Shenzhen Energy allotted shares with its capital surplus in 2011. In February 2013, Shenzhen Energy merged SE Management through the combination of directional seasoned offering and cash payment to equity holders of SE management, Shenzhen State-owned Assets Administration Commission and the Company. After the merger, the Company held 661 million shares of Shenzhen Energy, representing 25.02% of its equity interests. In 2018, Shenzhen Energy distributed RMB0.80 of cash dividend out of every 10 shares to its equity holders, and the Company held 992 million shares of Shenzhen Energy by 31 December 2018. These investments brought a net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company of RMB148 million for the year ended 31 December 2018 under IFRS. This investment is expected to provide steady returns to the Company.

The Company held 60% direct equity interest in Sichuan Hydropower as of 31 December 2006. In January 2007, Huaneng Group increased its capital investment in Sichuan Hydropower by RMB615 million, thus reducing the Company’s equity interest in Sichuan Hydropower to 49% and making Huaneng Group the controlling shareholder of Sichuan Hydropower. This investment brought a net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company of RMB111 million for the year ended 31 December 2018 under IFRS. This investment is expected to provide steady returns to the Company.

The Company and its subsidiaries provide employees with competitive remuneration and linked such remuneration to operating results to provide incentives for the employees. Based on the development plans of the Company and its subsidiaries and the requirements of individual positions, together with consideration of specific characteristics of individual employees, the Company and its subsidiaries tailored various training programs for their employees on management, technology and the skills. These programs enhanced the comprehensive skills of the employees.

G.GUARANTEE FOR LOANS AND RESTRICTED ASSETS

As of 31 December 2018, the Company provided guarantees of approximately RMB12.273 billion for the long-term bank loans of Tuas Power.

As of 31 December 2018, the details of secured loans of the Company and its subsidiaries were as follows:

As of 31 December 2018, short-term loans of RMB461 million (2017: RMB24 million) represented the notes (1)receivable that were discounted with recourse. As these notes receivable had not yet matured, the proceeds received were recorded as short-term loans.

H. ACCOUNTING STANDARDS HAVING MATERIAL IMPACT ON THE COMPANY'S FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The financial information extracted from the 2018 annual financial statements has been prepared in accordance with the same accounting policies adopted in the 2017 annual financial statements, except for the accounting policy changes set out in Note 2 to the extracted financial information.

I. IMPAIRMENT SENSITIVITY ANALYSIS

1. Goodwill impairment

The Company and its subsidiaries conducts impairment test on each individually recognized goodwill every year. In 2018, the management recognized goodwill impairment of approximately RMB409 million based on the impairment assessment.

For goodwill allocated to CGUs in the PRC, changes of assumptions in tariff and fuel price could have affected the results of goodwill impairment assessment. As of 31 December 2018, if tariff had decreased by 1% or 5% from management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against goodwill by approximately RMB900 million and RMB3,915 million, respectively. If fuel price had increased by 1% or 5% from the management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against goodwill by approximately RMB421 million and RMB3,185 million, respectively.

2. Impairment of other non-current assets

The Company and its subsidiaries will test its property, plant and equipment, land use rights and mining rights suffered any impairment whenever an impairment indication exists.

In 2018, impairment losses for certain property, plant and equipment and mining rights of approximately RMB990 million and RMB135 million have been recognized, respectively. Factors leading to the impairment include lower than expected operating results of subsidiaries in 2018 due to oversupply and fierce competition within the electricity market. In addition, as a result of the low demand of coal-fired power in local market and site selection issues, management estimated the possibility of further development of a coal-fired power project and a wind power project was remote. Therefore the project under construction of two subsidiaries with a carrying value of RMB14 million and 8 million were fully impaired in 2018.

Changes of assumptions in tariff and fuel price will affect the result of property, plant and equipment, land use rights and mining rights impairment assessment. As at 31 December 2018, if tariff had decreased by 1% or 5% from management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectation, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against property, plant and equipment, land use rights and mining rights by approximately RMB460 million and RMB5,599 million, respectively; if fuel price had increased by 1% or 5% from the management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the impairment against property, plant and equipment, land use rights and mining rights of the Company and its subsidiaries would increase by approximately RMB46 million and RMB1,598 million, respectively.

J. RISK FACTORS

1. Risks relating to coal market

The tight supply-demand condition in the coal market is expected to be generally eased in 2019 with coal prices moving towards the green range, but market risks still exist. First, the coal production capacity is further concentrated in the three leading coal-producing regions of Inner Mongolia, Shanxi and Shaanxi, where the local policies, extreme climate conditions and coal mine accidents would have an increasing impact on the national coal supply. Secondly, environmental safety inspection is conducted regularly to maintain high pressure on coal producers, which would have certain effect on utilization of production capacity in these regions. Thirdly, several coal chemical projects would be put into operation with significant demand for coal supply. Lastly, the transit center for the ports in Northern China is expected to migrate to Caofeidian in the next few years, which migration could further complicate the mismatch between railway capacity and the port resources and therefore affect the coal market.

2. Risks relating to electricity market

In 2019, the national electricity consumption growth rate is expected to be 5.5%, which is 3 percentage points lower than that in 2018. The estimated new installed capacity is expected to be 110 million kilowatts. Based on 2018 utilization hours, the estimated electricity consumption growth would all come from operation of new generating units, and the oversupply of power generation would not change significantly. Market competition is increasingly intensified, creating uncertainty to the Company's efforts to increase power generation and market share.

3. Risks relating to electricity tariff

With issue of the policies to liberalize electricity consumption in coal, steel, nonferrous metals and building materials sectors, more and more electricity is sourced from market-based transactions. Medium and long- term transaction amounts continue to increase, the market share of inter- provincial transactions increase substantially, and spot transactions are accelerated. with an ever more diversified transaction types and models, market competition is extremely fierce and impose more downward pressure on electricity pricing.

4. Risks relating to electricity trading policies

Traditionally advantageous areas are at risk of being affected by coal- restricted and inter-provincial trading policies. In 2019, the restrictions on total coal consumption in Hebei, Zhejiang, Shanghai, Jiangsu, Shandong and other regions are expected to be more stringent, which could further affect local power generation. The Chinese government will increase inter- provincial UHV electricity transmission, which could have a material effect upon the Company in a short term as we have more generating capacities in the receiving area than in the delivery area.

5. Risks relating to environmental protection policies

The Chinese government is committed to resolute fight against pollution. The State Council has issued a three-year anti-pollution action plan requiring industrial enterprises such as power plants to further reduce emission of major air pollutants. Any power plant shall be held for legal liabilities if it fails to reinforce management on operation and maintenance of generating units and environmental protection facilities, or to ensure strict compliance with emission permit requirements, or to discharge pollutants in accordance with required intensity and amounts.

6. Interest rate risks

Regarding our debts denominated in RMB, the central bank is expected to strengthen application of counter-cyclical adjustment measures as part of its macro-control initiatives, which could lead to reduced interest rates at the money market and bond market and therefore lower the interest rates of the Company's RMB debts generally in 2019. Regarding our debts denominated in other currencies, it is less likely that the U.S. and other major economies would further increase interest rates due to expected slowdown of the global economy. As the debts denominated in other currencies represent a small percentage in our total debts, the change of interest rates of foreign currencies are not expected to have material effect on the Company.

Detailed terms and the proportion of the Company's cash dividends in the next three years are: when the profit and accumulated undistributed profits in the current year are positive, and on condition that the Company's cash flow is able to meet the need for its ordinary operation and sustainable development, the Company shall distribute dividends in cash and the annual cash dividend payout shall, in principle, be no less than 70% of the realised distributable profits stated in the consolidated financial statement that year and such dividend shall be no less than RMB0.1 per share.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL INFORMATION EXTRACTED FROM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PREPARED UNDER IFRS

(Amount expressed in thousands of RMB unless otherwise stated)

1. Basis of preparation

The financial statements included in the annual report have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (the “IASB”) and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. These financial statements also comply with the applicable disclosure provisions of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited. These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of equity instrument investments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and derivative financial assets and liabilities.

Non-current assets and disposal group held for sale are stated at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

As at and for the year ended 31 December 2018, a portion of the Company and its subsidiaries’ funding requirements for capital expenditures were satisfied by short-term financing. Consequently, as at 31 December 2018, the Company and its subsidiaries have net current liabilities of approximately RMB76.4 billion. Taking into consideration of the expected operating cash flows of the Company and its subsidiaries and the undrawn available banking facilities of approximately RMB268.8 billion as at 31 December 2018, the Company and its subsidiaries are expected to refinance certain of its short term loans and bonds, and also consider alternative sources of financing, where applicable and when needed. Therefore, the directors of the Company are of the opinion that the Company and its subsidiaries will be able to meet its liabilities as and when they fall due within the next twelve months and accordingly, these consolidated financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis.

The IASB has issued certain new and revised IFRSs that are first effective or available for early adoption for the current accounting period of the Company and its subsidiaries. Note 2 provides information on any changes in accounting policies resulting from initial application of these developments to the extent that they are relevant to the Company and its subsidiaries for the current and prior accounting periods reflected in these financial statements.

2. Principal Accounting Policies

The IASB has issued a number of new IFRSs and amendments to IFRSs that are first effective for the current accounting period of the Company and its subsidiaries. Of these, the following developments are relevant to the Company and its subsidiaries' financial statements:

- (i) IFRS 9, Financial instruments
- (ii) IFRS 15, Revenue from contracts with customers
- (iii) IFRIC 22, Foreign currency transactions and advance consideration

The Company and its subsidiaries have not applied any new standard or interpretation that is not yet effective for current accounting period.

- (i) IFRS 9, Financial instruments

IFRS 9 replaces IAS 39, Financial instruments: recognition and measurement. It sets out the requirements for recognising and measuring financial assets, financial liabilities and some contracts to buy or sell non- financial items.

The Company and its subsidiaries have applied IFRS 9 retrospectively to items that existed at 1 January 2018 in accordance with the transition requirements. The Company and its subsidiaries have recognised the cumulative effect of initial application as an adjustment to the opening equity at 1 January 2018. Therefore, comparative information continues to be reported under IAS 39.

The following table summarises the impact of transition to IFRS 9 on reserves at 1 January 2018.

Other reserve in other comprehensive income
Transferred to fair value reserve (non-recycling) relating to equity instrument investments now measured at fair value through other comprehensive income	(574,657)
Fair value reserve (non-recycling)
Transferred from other reserve in other comprehensive income relating to equity instrument investments now measured at fair value through other comprehensive income and increase in fair value reserve (non-recycling) at 1 January 2018	944,603

(ii) IFRS 15, Revenue from contracts with customers

IFRS 15 establishes a comprehensive framework for recognising revenue and some costs from contracts with customers. IFRS 15 replaces IAS 18, Revenue, which covered revenue arising from sale of goods and rendering of services, and IAS 11, Construction contracts, which specified the accounting for construction contracts.

IFRS 15 also introduces additional qualitative and quantitative disclosure requirements which aim to enable users of the financial statements to understand the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from contracts with customers.

The Company and its subsidiaries have elected to use the cumulative effect transition method and have recognised the cumulative effect of initial application as an adjustment to the opening balance of equity as at 1 January 2018. Therefore, comparative information has not been restated and continues to be reported under IAS 18 and IAS 11. As allowed by IFRS 15, the Company and its subsidiaries have applied the new requirements only to contracts that were not completed before 1 January 2018, referred to as open contracts.

Since more than 95% of the Company and its subsidiaries' revenue comprised of contracts with customers from rate-regulated sales of electricity and heat, where revenue continue to be recognised upon transmission to the customers. The adoption of IFRS 15 did not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

(iii) IFRIC 22, Foreign currency transactions and advance consideration

This interpretation provides guidance on determining “the date of the transaction” for the purpose of determining the exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income (or part of it) arising from a transaction in which an entity receives or pays advance consideration in a foreign currency.

The Interpretation clarifies that “the date of the transaction” is the date on initial recognition of the non-monetary asset or liability arising from the payment or receipt of advance consideration. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance of recognising the related item, the date of the transaction for each payment or receipt should be determined in this way. The adoption of IFRIC 22 does not have any material impact on the financial position and the financial result of the Company and its subsidiaries.

3. Revenue and segment information

(a) Disaggregation of revenue

In the following table, revenue is disaggregated by major products and/or service lines of revenue recognition. The table also includes a reconciliation of the disaggregated operating revenue with the Company and its subsidiaries' reportable segments (Note 3(b)).

The upfront fees of heating pipeline are recognised as revenue over the period of heat supply.

(b) Segment information

Directors and certain senior management of the Company perform the function as the chief operating decision maker (collectively referred to as the “senior management”). The senior management reviews the internal reporting of the Company and its subsidiaries in order to assess performance and allocate resources. The Company has determined the operating segments based on these reports. The reportable segments of the Company are the PRC power segment, overseas segment and all other segments (mainly including port and transportation operations). No operating segments have been aggregated to form a reportable segment.

Senior management assesses the performance of the operating segments based on a measure of profit before income tax expense under China Accounting Standard for Business Enterprises (“PRC GAAP”) excluding dividend income received from other equity instrument investment, gains on disposal of other equity instrument investment and operating results of the centrally managed and resource allocation functions of headquarters (“Segment results”). Other information provided, except as noted below, to the senior management of the Company is measured under PRC GAAP.

Segment assets exclude prepaid income tax, deferred income tax assets, other equity instrument investments and assets related to the centrally managed and resource allocation functions of headquarters that are not attributable to any operating segment (“corporate assets”). Segment liabilities exclude current income tax liabilities, deferred income tax liabilities and liabilities related to the centrally managed and resource allocation functions of headquarters that are not attributable to any operating segment (“corporate liabilities”). These are part of the reconciliation to total assets and liabilities of consolidated statement of financial position.

All sales among the operating segments have been eliminated as internal transactions when preparing consolidated financial statements.

- (a) Differences in accounting treatment on business combinations under common control and depreciation and amortisation under common control

Huaneng Group is the parent company of HIPDC, which in turn is also the ultimate parent of the Company. The Company carried out a series of acquisitions from Huaneng Group and HIPDC in recent years. As the acquired power companies and plants and the Company were under common control of Huaneng Group before and after the acquisitions, such acquisitions are regarded as business combinations under common control.

In accordance with PRC GAAP, under common control business combination, the assets and liabilities acquired in business combinations are measured at the carrying amounts of the acquirees in the consolidated financial statements of the ultimate controlling party on the acquisition date. The difference between carrying amounts of the net assets acquired and the consideration paid is adjusted to equity account of the acquirer. The operating results for all periods presented are retrospectively restated as if the current structure and operations resulting from the acquisition had been in existence since the beginning of the earliest year presented, with financial data of previously separate entities consolidated. The cash consideration paid by the Company is treated as an equity transaction in the year of acquisition. The subsequent adjustment of contingent consideration after the acquisition date is also accounted for as an equity transaction.

For the business combination occurred prior to 1 January 2007, in accordance with Previous PRC GAAP, when equity interests acquired is less than 100%, the assets and liabilities of the acquirees are measured at their carrying amounts. The excess of consideration over the proportionate share of the carrying amounts of the net assets acquired was recorded as equity investment difference and amortised on a straight-line basis for not more than 10 years. When acquiring the entire equity, the entire assets and liabilities are accounted for in a method similar to purchase accounting. Goodwill arising from such transactions is amortised over the estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis. On 1 January 2007, in accordance with PRC GAAP, the unamortised equity investment differences and goodwill arising from business combinations under common control were written off against undistributed profits.

Under IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted the purchase method to account for the acquisitions above. The assets and liabilities acquired in acquisitions were recorded at fair value by the acquirer. The excess of acquisition cost over the proportionate share of fair value of net identifiable assets acquired was recorded as goodwill. Goodwill is not amortised but is tested annually for impairment and carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. The operating results of the acquirees are consolidated in the operating results of the Company and its subsidiaries from the acquisition dates onwards. The contingent consideration not classified as equity are measured at fair value at each reporting date with the changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss, if such changes are not measurement period adjustments.

As mentioned above, the differences in accounting treatment under PRC GAAP and IFRS on business combinations under common control affect both equity and profit. Meanwhile, due to different measurement basis of the assets acquired, depreciation and amortisation in the period subsequent to the acquisition will be affected which will also affect the equity and profit or loss upon subsequent disposals of such investments. Such differences will be gradually eliminated following subsequent depreciation, amortisation and disposal of related assets.

(b) Effect of depreciation on the capitalization of borrowing costs in previous years

In previous years, under Previous PRC GAAP, the scope of capitalization of borrowing costs was limited to specific borrowings, and thus, borrowing costs arising from general borrowings were not capitalised. In accordance with IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries capitalised borrowing on general borrowing used for the purpose of obtaining qualifying assets in addition to the capitalization of borrowing costs on specific borrowings. From 1 January 2007 onwards, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted PRC GAAP No. 17 prospectively. The current adjustments represent the related depreciation on capitalised borrowing costs included in the cost of related assets under IFRS in previous years.

(c) Difference in the recognition of housing benefits to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries in previous years

The Company and its subsidiaries once provided staff quarters to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries and sold such staff quarters to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries at preferential prices set by the local housing reform office. Difference between cost of the staff quarters and proceeds from the employees represented the housing losses, and was borne by the Company and its subsidiaries.

Under Previous Accounting Standards and Accounting System (“Previous PRC GAAP”), in accordance with the relevant regulations issued by the Ministry of Finance, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are fully charged to non-operating expenses in previous years. Under IFRS, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are recognised on a straight-line basis over the estimated remaining average service lives of the employees.

(d)Deferred income tax impact on GAAP differences

This represents related deferred income tax impact on the GAAP differences above where applicable.
