STERLING CAPITAL CORPORATION
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
June 30, 2004
(Unaudited)

Note A - Significant Accounting Policies

Sterling Capital Corporation (the "Corporation") (formerly known as The Value Line Development Capital Corporation) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Act"), and is a diversified, closed-end investment company. The Corporation operates exclusively as an internally managed investment company whereby its own officers and employees, under the general supervision of its Board of Directors, conduct its operations. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed, in all material respects, by the Corporation in the preparation of its financial statements. The policies are in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

(1) Security Valuation

Investments in securities traded on a national securities exchange (or reported on the NASDAQ national market) are valued at the last reported sales price on the day of valuation; other securities traded in the over-the-counter market and listed securities for which no sale was reported on that date are valued at the last quoted bid price, except for short positions and call options written, for which the last quoted asked price is used. Investments in real estate are valued at fair value as determined by the Board of Directors.

(2) Federal Income Taxes

The Corporation's policy is to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all its taxable income to its shareholders.

The Corporation for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2004 will probably be a "personal holding company" under the Code, since five or fewer shareholders own directly or indirectly more than 50% in value of the Corporation's outstanding stock, and more than 60% of the Corporation's adjusted ordinary income will probably be "personal holding company income". As a personal holding company, the Corporation will be subject to penalty taxes unless it distributes to its shareholders an amount at least equal to its otherwise undistributed personal holding company income, net of appropriate deductions applicable thereto. It is anticipated that the Corporation will not have any undistributed personal holding company income for the year ended December 31, 2004. Personal holding company income does not include the excess, if any, of net realized long-term capital gains over net realized short-term capital losses, less any Federal income tax attributable to such excess. The Corporation has considered methods of minimizing the possible tax impact of being a personal holding company, and if appropriate, will make sufficient distributions to shareholders so that the Corporation will not be subject to such penalty tax.

Edgar Filing: STERLING CAPITAL CORP - Form N-CSR

At December 31, 2003, the Corporation had a net capital loss carryforward, which may be used to offset future capital gains, of $1,400,684.

 NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
 June 30, 2004
 (Unaudited)

(3) Securities Transactions Valuation

Securities transactions are accounted for on the date the securities are purchased or sold (trade date), dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date and interest income is accrued as earned. Gains and losses from securities transactions were computed on the identified cost basis.

(4) Distributions to Shareholders

Dividends to shareholders are recorded on the dividend declaration date.

(5) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note B - Securities Transactions

The following summarizes all securities transactions by the Corporation for the six months ended June 30, 2004:

Purchases	$ 665,588
Sales	$ 1,006,460

Net realized gain and unrealized loss on investments for the six months ended June 30, 2004 was $51,438. This amount represents the net increase in value of investments held during the period. The components are as follows:

Long transactions	$ 51,438
Net realized gain and unrealized loss on investments	$ 51,438
	=====

As of June 30, 2004 gross unrealized appreciation and (depreciation) of the corporation's securities portfolio were as follows:

Unrealized appreciation	$ 2,688,769
Unrealized depreciation	(212,388)
Net unrealized appreciation	$ 2,476,381
