Report of Independent Auditors

Board of Directors and Stockholders
Healthcare Realty Trust Incorporated
Nashville, Tennessee

We have audited the accompanying Combined Historical Statement of Revenues and Certain Direct Operating Expenses for the year ended December 31, 2009 of the two medical office buildings (the Properties) acquired pursuant to the purchase agreement dated June 16, 2010 between HR Lowry Medical Center SPE, LLC, an affiliate of Healthcare Realty Trust Incorporated, and Lowry Medical Center, LLC and Lowry Two Medical Center, LLC (collectively, Lowry). This financial statement is the responsibility of Lowry management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Lowry s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying financial statement was prepared for the purpose of complying with the rules and regulations of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission as described in Note 2 and is not intended to be a complete presentation of the Properties revenues and expenses.

In our opinion, the Combined Historical Statement of Revenues and Certain Direct Operating Expenses referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the revenues and certain direct operating expenses described in Note 2 to the financial statement for the year ended December 31, 2009, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The impact of the Lowry Properties, acquired on August 31, 2010, is already reflected in the historical column of the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet, and one month of its results of operations and resulting financing activities, September 2010, are already reflected in the historical column of the Company's Condensed Consolidated Income Statement for the nine months ended September 30, 2010.
- 2) The unaudited pro forma adjustments to the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet represent the impact of the Company's acquisition of the Frisco Properties on December 29, 2010 and assume the transaction had been completed on September 30, 2010. The Company has estimated and allocated the value of its investment in the real estate properties acquired to land, land held for development, building, and lease intangibles and has assumed the transaction was funded with proceeds received from senior notes issued by the Company in December 2010 at a contractual rate of 5.75%.

The unaudited pro forma adjustments to the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for the nine months ended September 30, 2010 and the twelve months ended December 31, 2009 assume that the acquisition of the Lowry Properties and Frisco Properties had been completed on January 1, 2009.

The Company's estimates and valuations included in these Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Financial Statements are based on preliminary estimates and assumptions as of the date of this report, which may change.

- 3) Represents the historical consolidated results of operations of the Lowry Properties and Frisco Properties for each period presented.

- 4) The Company made certain pro forma adjustments related to the historical revenues and expenses of the Lowry Properties and Frisco Properties for the nine months ended September 30, 2010 in order to derive condensed consolidated pro forma results of operations from continuing operations for the Company for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. These pro forma adjustments include, but are not limited to, the following:

An increase to property operating income due to the amortization of net below-market lease intangibles totaling approximately $32 thousand recorded as part of the acquisitions as an adjustment to property operating income;

Operating expense reimbursement income decrease totaling approximately $12 thousand related to reduced expenses estimated for insurance, property taxes and management fees;

A reduction to property operating income and property operating expense for ground lease income/expense totaling approximately $63 thousand between two of the Frisco properties. The income/expense is reflected in the historical amounts for the properties, but is being eliminated in the consolidated pro forma amounts;

Straight-line rent adjustments for in-place leases based on a January 1, 2009 acquisition date;

Reduced expenses related to third party management, which was assumed by the Company upon acquisition; as well as certain estimated reductions in property insurance, property taxes, and certain allocated overhead, included in the properties' historical financial statements;

Depreciation and amortization expense based on the Company's allocation of the purchase price to land, building, and lease intangibles. Depreciation and amortization are calculated on a straight-line basis using the estimated remaining useful life of the assets. The estimated remaining lives for the buildings acquired ranged from 29 years to 37 years and a range of 36 months to 197 months was estimated for the other lease intangibles acquired. These estimates, allocations and valuations are subject to change; therefore, the actual depreciation and amortization expense recognized by the Company may not agree with the estimates included in these pro forma financial statements; and

Interest expense for the properties was reduced to reflect the repayment of three mortgage notes payable upon acquisition of the properties by the Company. Also, interest expense was adjusted for the amortization of the debt premium recognized by the Company upon acquisition of the mortgage note payable on the Lowry Properties. The Company estimated the fair value of the mortgage note payable at the date of acquisition, resulting in a premium that the Company will amortize through the date of the note payable maturity.

- 5) The Company made certain pro forma adjustments related to the historical revenues and expenses of the Lowry Properties and Frisco Properties for the twelve months ended December 31, 2009 in order to derive condensed consolidated pro forma results of operations from continuing operations for the Company for the twelve months ended December 31, 2009. These pro forma adjustments include, but are not limited to, the following:

A decrease to property operating income due to the amortization of certain above-market lease intangibles totaling approximately $4 thousand recorded as part of the Frisco Properties' acquisition as an adjustment to property operating income;

Operating expense reimbursement adjustments totaling approximately $10 thousand related to reduced expenses estimated for insurance and management fees included in property operating income;

Reduced expenses related to third party management, which was assumed by the Company upon acquisition; as well as certain estimated reductions in property insurance, property taxes, and certain allocated overhead, included in the properties' historical financial statements;

Interest expense for the properties was reduced to reflect the repayment of three mortgage notes payable upon acquisition of the properties by the Company. Also, interest expense was adjusted for the amortization of the debt premium recognized by the Company upon acquisition of the mortgage note payable on the Lowry Properties. The Company estimated the fair value of the mortgage note payable at the date of acquisition, resulting in a premium that the Company will amortize through the date of the note payable maturity.

- 6) The Company assumed that the acquisitions of the Lowry Properties and Frisco Properties were completed on January 1, 2009 and were funded with $148.7 million in proceeds from long-term senior notes issued by the Company in December 2010 bearing an interest rate of 5.75%. Typically, the Company will temporarily fund its acquisitions with proceeds from its unsecured credit facility, but will from time to time repay the outstanding balance on the unsecured credit facility with proceeds from a long-term debt or equity offering. As such, the Company has used the interest rate of its senior notes issued in December 2010, rather than the rate on the unsecured credit facility, to show the pro forma effect on interest expense of financing these acquisitions.
