State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

The Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K (the Form 10-K) for the year ended December 31, 2010 cannot be filed within the prescribed time period because the Company has identified a material weakness in internal controls over financial reporting for income taxes and requires additional time to perform additional testing on, and reconciliation, of the tax accounts to be included in the annual financial statements to be presented in the Form 10-K. The Company expects to file the Form 10-K on or before the 15th calendar day following the prescribed due date.

If answer is no, identify report(s). Yes No

(3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof? Yes No

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

As a result of identifying the material weakness, we performed additional testing to determine whether or not the material weakness failed to identify any material errors in our accounting for income taxes. We have substantially completed the testing procedures. Based on these procedures, we have identified certain errors, the correction of which will be adjustments to our historical financial statements and our 2010 fourth quarter earnings release, totalling approximately $500 million for the periods from 2007 to 2010. The amount for each year is expected to range from $100 million to $150 million. Approximately $460 million of these adjustments relate to an error in determining the tax consequences of intercompany amounts over multiple years. These adjustments are further described in our Form 8-K filed on the date hereof, Item 4.02(a) of which is incorporated herein by reference.
